

Crowds Throng Capital for Inauguration DETAILS OF

DETAILS OF "EXTORTION" CASE COME HALTINGLY

Three Leading Legislative Plans Given Up

WASHINGTON, March 3—The entire Republican program of farm relief, Muscle Shoals and prohibition legislation was abandoned by leadership today to break the deadlock which has held the Senate inactive for the last week.

When the last day's session opened, it was learned that the Republican steering committee had decided to press the Omnibus Pensions bill, the Omnibus Naval bill and the bill increasing penalties for violations of the soldier bonus law.

The two Omnibus bills are merely a collection of various minor items which hold no general significance.

EVIDENCE IN WHEATLEY CASE BEING HEARD

The climax of the state's attempt to weave a chain of evidence around Charles B. Wheat, accused of forging an endorsement to a $5322 county warrant, was expected to be reached this afternoon when hand writing experts are summoned to testify and stand in Superior Judge J. H. West's court, where the trial ended yesterday.

The prosecution of prosecution witnesses, that morning established proof that the warrant had been mailed from the county clerk's office to E. I. Crook, Los Angeles tractor dealer, on January 29, and that on the following day a disguised man had attempted to cash the warrant at county treasurer's office, but failed.

Having the Styles is What Counts

It almost seems to us that we have grown to worship but one ruler at Peterson's, and that is—STYLE. We now make our own trips to the eastern markets twice a year—instead of waiting for salesmen to call, weeks after styles have become common on Fifth Avenue. We are giving you a style service at Peterson's the equal of any in the country!

Black Satin, Trimmed with Kid

This particular little pump is so utterly fashionable and suitable for various wear that it has been duplicated in Black Kid and Patent Leather. The Black Satin model is trimmed with Black Kid in the darker places shown in the picture. The clever little circle cut-out effect is more charming than it looks in the picture. The heel is a covered Cuban style, the vamp is tolerably short, and the toe is the latest. A smart model—at $9.00 pair.

PERSONNEL IS SELECTED FOR JURY VENUE

With the echoes from the report of the 1924 grand jury still being heard, the names of 30 citizens selected as material from which the 1925 grand jury will be drawn were announced today.

From this venire, summoned by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, 19 names will be drawn for jury duty this fall. Inasmuch as the selections had been made before the report of the 1924 grand jury was filed, there was no chance to adopt that jury's suggestion that a part of the grand jury hold over each year.

The 1925 venire follows:
R. S. Gregory, Fullerton; Henry N. Adams, Anaheim; C. L. McComber, Buena Park; William Berkenstock, Placentia; S. James Tuffree, Placentia; C. C. Wagner, Placentia; Fred Struck, Olive; C. A. Palmer, Olive; Hugh T. Thompson, Villa Park; Jennie E. McPherson, McPherson; Dan Gruell, Orange; Mary Parker, Orange; R. C. Burkett, Orange; Thomas Haster, Garden Grove; H. E. Carner, Garden Grove; John F. Talbott, 710 Maybury street; Charles E. Morris, 320 South Broadway; E. M. Shedar, 208 East Chestnut; Mary Esau, 1920 Poinsett; Jennie Swanner, 715 Spurgeon; J. E. Livsey sr., 105 Orange avenue; John L. Wheeler, 523 South Ross, all of Santa Ana; Mae E. Forster, San Juan Capistrano; W. J. Cheney, Tustin; H. L. Wakeham, Tustin; W. S. Thompson, Tustin; Ben Jerome, Irvine; R. E. Larter, Westminster; W. F. Slater, Winterburg; P. A. Isenor, Huntington Beach.

Foreman L. G. Swales, of the 1924 grand jury, today called attention to the fact that special committee reports and minutes of the grand jury sessions were attached to the body's general report on file in the county clerk's office, and that these reports are open to public inspection. They contain, Swales stated, numerous interesting features, but are too lengthy to be published.

Police News

R. McQueen, 1048 West Fifth street, reported to the police yesterday that his small son had been bitten by a dog at the corner of Washington and Sycamore streets. The dog is being watched for two weeks.

A blue bicycle, stolen by a Mexican youth, was found buried at the race track yesterday by Earl Lentz, detective. The bicycle had been taken apart and the pieces were found in various places. The wheel is in good condition, police said, who are trying to find the owner.

Luciano Alamillo, 49, who has been a resident of Santa Ana for 25 years, was arrested at his home on Stafford street last night by Deputy Sheriff Dan Adams on a complaint charging non-support of a minor child. At a hearing before Justice K. E. Morrison, today, Alamillo was released on his own recognizance and his preliminary examination was set for 10 a. m. on March 10.

Convicted at Seal Beach on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor, Fred Gross, 35, was brought to the Orange county jail last night from the beach city, to begin a term of 300 days in the county jail. According to Jailer Joe Irvine, Gross is alleged to have been the partner of Paul Lang, German, who was arrested by county officers at Seal Beach last month, when a 50 gallon still was confiscated. Lang is in the county jail, serving a term of 500 days, after his failure to pay a fine of $500.

Police of Sedan, Kansas have been asked by the sheriff's office here, to arrest Ardrey Hill, 16, Fullerton youth, wanted in connection with the alleged forgery of checks amounting to $460, according to information secured today from H. R. Miller, county probation officer.

Henry Smith, 84, who told jailers he had lived in California for 50 years, was arrested early today by Constable Jesse Elliott, charged with petit larceny. Smith had been at the Orange county hospital for the past eight months, and is charged with stealing a number of tools and selling them in Anaheim.

A COUGH REMEDY WITHOUT OPIATES

Many cough preparations contain some one or more harmful drugs which are added to take the place of opiates. None of these narcotic substitutes have ever been used in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. The name of every ingredient is plainly printed on every carton. You know what you are taking when you take Foley's. It clings to the throat. Good for old and young. You have a cough, why not try it? Society

Business Women's Club

Very evidently preferring to have the world laugh with him rather than to weep alone, Judge F. C. Drumm kept the little world of the Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club in one continued giggle yesterday at the Monday luncheon at St. Ann's Inn, in a frivolous presentation of a serious subject, "The Business, Political and Social Aspect of the Inauguration."

Declaring that he had a certain amount of time which he was to take up with his talk and that he could cover all he had to say on the theme in a few minutes, the judge devoted the greater part of the interval to a rapid fire of stories, witticisms and half-veiled but thoroughly good-natured thrusts at the service club that had presumed to call him from his sterner judicial duties to speak before a purely feminine audience.

After solemnly assuring the members that he would prefer to speak to one woman for forty minutes than to forty women for one minute the speaker finally divided his remarks between the custard pie of the dessert course and the theme of his talk, becoming serious for the time being as he declared that every truly patriotic American should lay aside all party prejudices and after a president was elected, should remember that he was not just the president of the Republic or Democratic party or whatsoever party placed him in the chair, but was the president of the entire United States and as such, eminently worthy of support as the choice of the people.

To Calvin Coolidge he paid a splendid tribute, citing him as one peculiarly well-fitted to bear the burdens of the presidency—such burdens as are almost beyond the comprehension of those who merely think of the honors of the office. The sentiment which leads the president to plan to take oath of office upon the old fashioned Bible which saw such service in the middle of the night when he was sworn into his high office following the death of the late President Harding, was commented upon feelingly, and Judge Drumm concluded his talk with an appropriate quotation from Joseph Rodman Drake.

Several guests were introduced at the meeting, among them being Mrs. Marshall Northcross, Mrs. C. W. Babcock, Miss Flora Pritchard and Miss Alice Haines, a member of the Pueblo Business and Professional Women's club of Pueblo, Colo., who is here spending the winter with Mrs. Minnie Ketter.

Mabel McFadden, the president, announced that the nominating committee would meet next week and would consider any suggestions which members wished to make for the presidency and other offices. The committee is to report at the meeting on March 20.

Piano Recital

Many interested guests gathered for a joyous recital last Saturday afternoon when Harry Garstang presented a group of talented piano pupils at his studio, 617 North Ross street.

The young pianists were assisted by Miss Georgia Belle Walton who gave two delightful violin groups with her sister, Miss Marjorie Walton at the piano, and by Miss Beryl Ludlow, who to her own accompaniment, sang a group of pleasing Irish songs.

The young people appearing on the program all acquitted themselves splendidly, to the credit of Mr. Garstang, the instructor. They included Ruby Stanley, Elizabeth Cotant, Dick Cocking, Helen Holmes, Preston Bradford, Byron Long, Gussie Lee Gibson, Elizabeth Stanley, Vivian Bloemer, Orestel Long, Dorothea Henshaw, Josephine Madrid, Ida Solomon and Marjorie Walton.

SIDE PAINED HER TERRIBLY

After Childbirth Women Should Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Restore
Normal Conditions

St. Louis, Missouri. — "After my first child was born I was bothered with a pain in my side which became more severe the longer I let it go. It was terrible. I often had to lie down to get any relief. I was in a weak and run-down condition, and my side seemed to be the point for all the pain. I was this way for three months, then I read your little booklet and the testimonials it contained, and started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I could feel relief after the first bottle and I have found it to do all you claim for it. I had to repeat it again after my second child was born. I sure will recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends." — Mrs. N. K. LAYTON, 2726A University St., St. Louis, Mo.

If you are suffering from any weakness which causes such symptoms as pains in the side and back and nervous feelings, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial now. Do not continue to feel all run-down and half sick when relief is at hand. Sold by druggists everywhere.

WILL DISCUSS DEVELOPMENT OF AIR LINES

A movement to establish regular commercial aviation between all Southern California communities, to bring about an arrangement for landing fields in every community and to connect up all centers with aerial routes which now are being started and published, will be discussed at a conference meeting to be held in Glendale, March 14 and 15. A. L. Olinger, secretary of the Santa Ana chamber of commerce, has been advised.

The conference will be held in connection with a two-day Southern California Aviation Rodco to be staged at the Glendale airport. The project has the approval of the Commercial Secretaries Association of Southern California, and several chamber of commerce organizations, Olinger stated.

Future meets in connection with this movement will be held in other Southern California communities from time to time, it was explained.

The matter will come before the directors of the local chamber at their regular meeting this week when delegates to the conference will be appointed.

On Program for

Camp Patients

Twenty-three members of the Santa Ana American legion auxiliary made another pilgrimage to Camp Kearney Sunday as a part of their welfare work among the ex-service men and ex-war nurses hospitalized there.

The visit was arranged particularly for the ill nurses there, and more than three dozen potted plants were presented them.

Home made cake and punch was served the girls and the afternoon was climaxed with a splendid program given by Hazel Miller, soprano, Robert Bradford, baritone, Ione Tunison, pianist, and Harriet Owens Enderle, reader.

"Wake Up!"

Wake up! said Brother Wade to me yesterday evening. Why aren't you out here waiting on customers?

But the joke was on HIM. You see I sneaked back to see if the Premier Day Beds were as comfortable as I've been told. I already knew they were fine looking.

Well, I lay down and those coil springs just naturally lulled me off to sleep.

If you don't believe the Premier is the best day bed for the money in town, try it—or ask me!

WHAT COUNCIL DID

CITY COUNCIL ORDERS EXTRA WATER MAINS

In order to lessen the fire hazards in downtown sections, the first steps towards installing additional water mains were taken by the city council last night with the adoption of plans submitted by Water Superintendent Walter Wray for a two-inch main to extend from First street to Sixth street on Broadway and from Broadway to Sycamore street on First street, and for an eight-inch line from Fourth to Sixth on Bush street.

Sketches of the proposed work were shown members of the council last night and it was pointed out that with the amount of building now going on in the area outlined, it was necessary for more water pipes to be laid, in order to eliminate any chance of a shortage of water in case of a serious fire.

According to the plans as submitted, the Broadway piping would cost the city approximately $6000, and a number of feet of pipe would have to be bought. The Bush street enterprise would cost in the neighborhood of $1600, it was reported. Money for the improvements is available from a recent improvement bond issue, it was said.

The main on Bush street would afford ample protection between Main and Spurgeon streets, it was pointed out, while a serious fire in this area at this time might prove costly. Wray stated. He intimated that the cost would also take care of the installation of a sufficient number of fire hydrants in the new areas.

FINES, FEES TOTAL $1735 FOR MONTH

Four city departments had a gross income during the month of February of $1735.30, according to monthly reports filed by department heads with the city council last night.

Police court fines totaled $1007, the report of City Recorder W. F. Heathman showed.

A total of 111 plumbing permits issued in Santa Ana during February netted the city $317.50 and gas inspection fees amounted to $20.50.

The report of W. S. Decker, building inspector, showed there were 92 building permits issued during the month, the fees amounting to $524. The city electrician's report showed a gross income of $276.10.

Council Plans Change In Dog License System

Santa Ana is having trouble with the stray dogs that roam the city.

Plans were made at the city council meeting, last night, for a change in the dog licensing system. Charges were made that poor records of tags had been kept. An effort will be made, it was decided, to secure the appointment of a man to handle the licenses.

City Clerk Ed Vercy stated that dog licenses netted the city no more than $200 last year.

A proposition has been made to the city by a man who offers to handle the dog licenses, collect the fees and regulate the dog situation for $25 a month.

Trustee George McPhee asked members of the board if there was ground for the report that "droves" of dogs had been seen on the city streets. He was told by members of the health department that there were less stray dogs than for years past.

AROUND THE COURTHOUSE

Brief News of Courts and County Officers

Boy Goes to Mother
A decree of divorce and custody of her 6-year-old son, were asked today by Mrs. Jessie E. Wilton in a complaint on file in the superior court against Lee R. Wilton. Attorneys Head, Ruten and Soovel represent the plaintiff. The Wiltons married in Los Angeles in December, 1917, and separated in May, 1918.

Damage Suit Defense Begins
The defense in the case of Charles Bean and George Cornwall against the L. A. Paving company, at Fullerton, took up its presentation of testimony today before Superior Judge F. C. Drumm, the plaintiff ranchers having rested their case late yesterday.

Just before court adjourned yesterday, Judge Drumm denied a defense motion for non-suit. The defense is expected to occupy most of the week with its case. Bean and Cornwall ask damages totalling $17,500 on account of alleged harmful dust, vapors and smoke from the paving plant settling upon their citrus groves. They also sued for an injunction.

Sues Fertilizer Company
J. Messerall today had a suit on file in the superior court against the Big Pine Fertilizer company, asking judgment for $400 in connection with a promissory note. The note, originally for $800, was executed at Anaheim in May, 1924. Attorneys Gardner and Clark, of Santa Ana, represent the plaintiff.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Application of Fred O'Malia for a position on the Santa Ana police department was ordered referred to the police commissioner.

A complaint made by A. Barton, who resides on the southwest corner of Third and Van Ness streets, about a leaky gas main near his home was heard by the council and referred to the city board of health for correction.

On recommendation of Councilman George McPhee, a motion was passed to install two new lights at the corners Washington and Tenth street on North Olive street.

Workmen have gone down 850 feet on the new city well being dug at the "sewer farm" for irrigation water, it was reported to the council. A good strata of gravel was found at 800 feet. Plans were made to continue until a depth of 1,000 feet is reached.

A copy of a resolution passed by the city council of Los Angeles February 10, asking that other city councils in Southern California join Los Angeles in presenting measures to the state legislature which would allow the people to vote on increase rates for telephone, gas and electricity, instead of allotting the power for such raises to the state railway commission, was read before the council last night. No definite action was taken. The resolution charged the railroad commission with favoring the corporations.

An effort will be made to have at least one member of the city council present at a meeting of city officers to be held at Sacramento made last night. The meeting is to be held for the purpose of discussing proposed legislation favorable to cities, and officers from all parts of the state are expected to be present.

"Y" Men to Hear Coolidge Talk

Through the courtesy of the Randall Radio Shop, the inaugural address of President Coolidge will be received at the Y. M. C. A. building Wednesday morning. Mr. Randall has installed a set in the association lobby for the occasion. The Y. M. C. A. invites all who care to listen in to come to the building before 9 o'clock, and to hear the address in comfort.

TO ADVERTISE BIDS FOR NEW STREET PAVING

Work of paving, putting in sidewalks and gutters on four city streets was ordered last night at the regular meeting of the city council, and action taken on a number of other proposed street improvements.

The city clerk was ordered to advertise bids for the paving of the following streets: Ross street, from Fairview to Wilshire Square; Kilson Drive, Bishop street to Wakeham street; Bishop street, Oak street to Kilson Drive and Wakeham avenue from Oak street to Kilson Drive.

Bids for the paving of Hesperian street, including curbs and gutters and sidewalks, were opened by the board last night. There were six bidders. The contract was not let, the board desiring to allow the matter to lay over for one week.

L. A. West announced to the council that all property owners residing on the proposed new street which would extend West of Broadway from Santa Clara avenue to Nineteenth street, had signed for the street with one exception. The council went on record as declaring the street a necessity and the matter was left open for the time being.

The proposed paving of several streets was referred to the city engineer for the drawing of plans and specifications. The following streets were asked paved by a majority of the property owners: Garnsey street, Fifth to Sixth street; Van Ness, Fairview to Wilshire Square; Lyon street, First to Palm street.

MILLIONAIRE, EX-U. S. SOLON, DIES IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, March 3.—William Andrews Clark, former United States senator from Montana and multi-millionaire copper magnate, died at his Fifth avenue mansion here last night following a brief attack of pneumonia. He was in his 86th year.

Clark, whose fortune has been estimated by some at from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000, was in active command of his many interests until about a week ago. Since last Christmas he had conducted his business from his home.

Pneumonia developed Thursday. Monday afternoon his condition took a turn for the worse and at 7:30 o'clock he died.

The aged copper king was born in Connellville, Pa., in 1839. He went west in the Colorado gold rush and during the succeeding years was a teamster, miner, merchant, railway builder, mine owner and United States senator.

His stay in politics lasted several years, culminating in a bitter fight with Richard Daly, copper king.

Clark was eventually elected and served from 1901 to 1907. Clark was twice married, first in 1869 to Miss Kate L. Stanifer of Connellville. She died in 1893. Several years after he married Miss Anna E. Lachapelle, who had been his ward.

Use Your Silent Salesman—THE REGISTER

Are you getting all the coffee "mileage" you should? In other words—does your coffee money travel full distance — or does it stop half way?

THE money that buys "cheap" coffee doesn't go very far. It travels only half the coffee-distance. For two reasons: you don't get the full, fragrant flavor that makes coffee worth while and you have to use more coffee to get the strength you like. After all—You buy coffee by the pound but you drink it by the cup. So it's not so much the cost-per-pound as the cost-per-cup that counts! Measured cup by cup MJB always travels the full coffee-distance. It is extra-rich in flavor and strength to start with. So that a little goes a long way. And then—it is vacuum packed by the patented MJB process. So that every bit of this extra strength gets home to your coffee cup.

There is a very simple way to test all this: Buy a can of MJB. Use a little less to the cup. You'll still be rewarded with a rich, full-flavored drink that no "cheap" coffee could hope to attain. And you'll find, as so many other shrewd home-managers have found, that—

MJB is cheapest in the long run because it gives you the most coffee "mileage" for your money.

Betrothals Weddings Receptions By Eleanor Young Elliott Phone Nine-O. Social Items Fashion Hints

Pretty Party Honors Past Leaders In Hermosa O. E. S.

A happily planned party in which past matrons and past patrons of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., were honored guests, was held last night at Masonic temple following the usual Hermosa chapter session at 8 o'clock.

The honored guests were given special places during the routine work of the chapter, and accorded full guest honors in every possible way, as was Mrs. Rachel K. Robertson, deputy grand worthy matron who came from her Fullerton home to enjoy the party.

Mrs. Ambler P. Burke, matron of the chapter and her patron, Charles F. Mitchell, offered a gracious hospitality and Mrs. Burke introduced a unique entertaining feature in a little playlet which a group of chapter members presented. Curtains had been hung at one end of the chapter room and were drawn to reveal the different scenes of "Gossip" in which amusingly costumed women related a simple tale until it grew to unbelievable proportions. With names of prominent members of the Masonic lodges and of the Eastern Star used in the dialogue, it was especially entertaining and was cleverly done by Mesdames G. E. Bruns, Neal Belsel, Ralph Barker, Earl Matthews, P. R. Plank, Judson Sutherland, James A. Tarpley and Charles F. Mitchell.

The play was preceded by a group of readings by Eleanor Young Elliott and followed by adjournment to the banquet room where a splendid committee had everything in readiness for serving fruit salad, wafers, small tarts and coffee. The two long tables where the honor guests were seated were especially attractive as in addition to the bowls of colorful spring flowers, they had colonial dolls for each past matron and quaintly dressed "past patrons" for each member in the group. The dolls were dressed in every conceivable tint and after lending brilliancy to the scene, formed beautiful "flowers" for each honor guest to bear.

Mr. Mitchell as toast master, introduced the oldest past matron, Captain J. H. Hall who was accorded an enthusiastic greeting. Mrs. O. M. Robbins was also introduced and spoke most entertainingly on the formation, history and aims of the Past Matrons' association, voicing the appreciation of her sister members for the hospitality of the evening.

Dr. L. L. Whitson spoke for the past patrons and concluded his remarks with a similar appreciation. Mrs. Harvey Trueblood, junior deputy grand matron, in a happy vein, gave an original parody of "Fads Need a Lot of Loving" which she dedicated to Mrs. Burke as matron and which was very much enjoyed by both the matron and her guests.

Past matrons and patrons so signally honored by Mrs. Burke and Mr. Mitchell included Mesdames Kate Barker, Cora B. Cavinis, Kate Cornelius, Lula Drake, Ida Dumbrey, Edith Harvey, Minnie Holmes, Ruth Hurlbert, Elida Huntington, Laura McCormack, Martha Medlock, Dora Pease, Jennie Peck, Fanny Reeves, Bessie Robbins, Mae Thomas, Carrie Topio, Emma Jean Trueblood, Alice Tubbs, Maude Winbiger, Tiesean Whitson, Jessie Chapin, Leilah Jones, Grace Finn, Mabel Rowland and Miss Martha Whitson.

Messrs. O. M. Robbins, W. V. Whitson, A. H. Pease, Leroy L. Whitson, W. W. Cleverger, F. C. Rowland, A. H. Palu, John A. Harvey, James A. Tarpley, Charles J. Cogan, C. E. Moore, J. G. Mitchell, William D. Finn and Captain J. H. Hall.

Parent-Teachers

Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the March meeting of the High School P. T. A. is held at the "Y" hut, a short program and social hour will honor the members of the staff at the school. The event is being planned by a hostess committee including Mesdames Walter Finn, Perry F. Schrock and F. T. Porter as a means of introducing the teachers to the parents and establishing friendly companionship between them.

Ebell Hospitality Is Extended to Many Friendly Guests

More than a hundred Ebell members gathered at the clubhouse yesterday afternoon to enjoy a most spring-like party arranged by Mrs. Hervey Trueblood and the capable Sixth Household Economics section members she called to her aid.

It seemed that every variety of spring flower was smiling a friendly greeting and the balmy air made the open doors and the glimpse of the green patio, most charming. A variety of entertaining features filled every moment. In the lounge the guests who were not attracted by cards, found the friendly informality of a humble bee an outlet for their activities. In the banquet room where card tables were arranged, bridge was the magnet.

Both groups joined for the tea hour when a committee composed of Mesdames P. A. Robinson, A. Gardner, W. H. Smith, F. P. Jayne, T. L. Warren, G. E. Preble, Frank H. Patterson, Taylor, S. M. Davis, Fred Zaiser, G. E. Bruns, W. A. Proctor and Charles Carothers, served tea a la Russe and assorted sweet wafers.

Preceding the tea was a most enjoyable program arranged by Mrs. Herbert Sammis who first introduced Cecil Ross Willis in a vocal group. Richly musical, Mrs. Willis' voice was eminently well-suited to two Carrie Jacobs Bond numbers, "Still Unexpressed" and "Nothing But Love." Recalled by her enthusiastic audience she sang an exquisite bit by Ball, "Who Knows?" Mrs. W. B. Snow was her accompanist.

Mrs. John Clarkson, a past president of Ebell, gave a most effective rendering of Thomas Bailey Aldrich's "In the Attic" with its fine shadings from straight narrative to the dramatic. She responded to the applause by "L'envoi" by Rudyard Kipling. Mrs. Sammis concluded the program with "The Slumber Song" given in her artistic manner with Mrs. Snow at the piano and when recalled by the insistent audience, an encore, responded with "June," whose melodious raptures seemed most appropriate to the spring-like day and occasion.

As a result of the pleasant afternoon, many Ebell members bore home with them, potted pansy plants, each in bloom, for such were the attractive gifts given the winner at each table and as rewards in the lounge in the later place, two dozen tea-towels were hemmed and initialed in red, for the Ebell kitchens. Superintending the work and acting as hostesses were Mesdames L. C. Richards, J. W. McCormack, O. H. Parr, F. W. Wieseman and Oscar Wilson.

Pansies were awarded for a variety of reasons, to the tallest, the shortest, the most proficient with the needle, the youngest, the slenderest, and many other qualifications. Needworkers thus winning gifts were Mrs. H. G. Head, Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. O. M. Robbins, Mrs. Isabel Tucker, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Prince, Mrs. Preble, Mrs. Taylor sr., Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, Mrs. Herbert Sammis and Mrs. C. W. Babcock of Minnesota. A houseguest of Mrs. Robbins, in the dining-room, Miss Lida Crookshank, Mrs. J. E. Paul, Mrs. J. E. Gowen and Mrs. Lewis F. Mculton presided and gave the pretty pansy prizes. Members and guests signed the register when it was presented by Mrs. Clarkson.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.—Adv.

Details of Wedding Interest Friends In This City

Scores of friends in this city were deeply interested in details of the recent Burge-Ross wedding in Los Angeles when Miss Alice Burge, daughter of E. D. Burge and Charles P. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Ross of Hollywood.

The happy couple are now enjoying their honeymoon in La Jolla and Coronado, having departed immediately after the nuptial ceremony of last Tuesday, February 24.

Members of the two families and a few particularly close friends were bidden to the ceremony which was conducted by the Rev. Richard W. Abberly of Pasadena at the future home of the young people at 1002 North Mariposa avenue, Los Angeles. Preceding the ceremony and immediately following it were groups of love songs while the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, beautifully played on the harp, heralded the approach of the wedding party.

Miss Burge wore an exquisite gown of Alice blue French chiffon over a foundation of Creme La Crosse lace and flesh tinted chiffon, fashioned in decidedly bouffant effect. Butterflies roses and lilies of the valley formed the beautiful bouquet she carried. Attending her was her sister, Miss Vivienne Burge as honor maid, gown in orchid chiffon and carrying pink Premier roses with maidenhair fern.

Mr. Ross was attended by his brother, George, as best man. The home was garden-like in its decorations of peach blossoms. An elaborate supper was served and the bride made a pretty ceremony of cutting the wedding cake, an artistic confection daintily frosted with lilies of the valley. Following the felicitations of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ross left by motor for La Jolla, their first stop.

Mr. Ross is a Scottish Rite Mason and well-known in Southern California banking circles. For the past eleven years he has been associated with the Pacific South-west Trust and Savings bank and is now junior vice-president of the bank in Los Angeles.

His bride was graduated from the Immaculate Heart convent in Hollywood and later from the University of Southern California. Since completing school she has traveled extensively through the east and Canada, having visited in Boston, Washington and New York and also in Montreal and Nova Scotia.

Happy Reunion To Honor Parents

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith of 802 East Sixth street were hosts at a delightful reunion Sunday, honoring Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Henderson of Stockton who are on their way to Red Cloud, Neb., their old home, where a son and daughter reside.

A sumptuous chicken dinner was served at noon, the decorations being quantities of beautiful sweet peas and forget-me-nots.

The afternoon hours were whiled away happily with conversation. Relatives present to greet the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Glover and son Marvin of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Therman Means, daughter Virginia and son La Vern and Mr. Jess Clark, all of Santa Ana.

Pictures of the merry group were obtained, which will be sent to the absent ones of the family. Mr. Henderson has been very seriously ill, but is improving in the balmy air of the southland.

Interesting Exhibit Of Canvases to Open With Informal Tea

In presenting a score of more of the latest canvases of Miss Anna Hills, permanent member of the art colony at Laguna Beach and one of the best known California painters, Miss Nelle Sumner of the Summer shop, has announced a duo of pleasantly informal teas for Friday and Saturday afternoons of this week, at her artistic shop, 111 1/2 West Fourth street.

Miss Hills will be honor guest on each afternoon and since she is so well-known in the city, many friends are expected to call and greet her and her hostess and to inspect her latest work. Miss Sumner is striking a most informal note in the pleasant affairs, to which all friends and art devotees are extended a cordial invitation.

Among the pictures to be shown will be several resulting from Miss Hills' latest sketching trip up the coast from which she returned only recently. Assisting Miss Sumner will be a little group of friends, those asked to pour including Mrs. Burr Shafer whose husband was recently admitted to membership in the California Art club after studying under Miss Hills, and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott.

Will Enjoy Trip Through the East

The host of friends of Miss Hattie Basler of 115 South Main street have been deeply interested in her plans for a several months' vacation outing upon which she will depart next Monday morning on the S. S. Manchuria from Los Angeles harbor.

Miss Basler who is a valued employee at the First National bank, plans for a two or three months' sojourn in the east, going by way of the Panama canal to New York City where she hopes to meet her brother G. Rudolph Basler on one of his frequent business trips to the eastern metropolis from his Chicago home.

Following a stay in New York, Miss Basler will visit Philadelphia, Washington, Boston, points in Maine and finally return to California by the Canadian route.

Drama Section

Additional interest will be given Friday afternoon's meeting of Ebell Drama section by the fact that George Gerwing, assistant dramatic coach of the Community Players, will be present and either present a short play or talk on the art of acting and appreciating plays. The members will assemble in the section room of the clubhouse at 2:15 o'clock.

St. Elizabeth's Guild

All members of St. Elizabeth's guild of the Church of the Messiah are reminded of the business meeting tonight at the parish hall at 7:30 o'clock.

Why Stay Fat?

You Can Reduce
The answer to most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmola Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. They are pleasant to take, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of freedom from laxatives. A box is sold at one dollar by all druggists, the world over, or the price direct to the Marmola Co., General Motors Bldg., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this, you have no excuse for being fat. You can reduce steadily and easily without going through long tedious diets of bread and butter, and a box and start getting slender now.

Young Orange Matron Is Extended Honors At Pretty Party

Complimenting Mrs. Willys Perkins of Orange, Mrs. Harvey Bennett of El Toro assembled an intimate little group of friends and former school-mates at the Santa Ana home of her sister, Mrs. Roy Silkwood, 932 West Pine street, on a recent afternoon.

It was a pleasantly conversational afternoon all details of which were most interesting to the guest group. A two-course tea menu was served at small tables whose central baskets of sweet peas established a charming pastel color note repeated in the individual nut-cups.

Mrs. Bennett was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. T. F. McDonnell and her sister, Mrs. Silkwood. Asked to greet Mrs. Perkins were Mesdames John Ball, Albert Fields, Paul Witmer, John Criddle, Irving Meyer, the Misses Irene Catland, Christine Schenk and Beth Phillips, Santa Ana; Mesdames Randolph Patton, William Thomas r. Albert Rohrs, Donald Smiley, C. E. Morrow, Orange; William Linebarger, H. H. Hanneford, and Miss Louise Tubbs, Tustin; Mesdames Harold Black, Lynn Boozie and William Abbott, Los Angeles; Mrs. Ted Borchard, Glendale, and the two assisting hostesses, Mrs. Silkwood and Mrs. McDonnell.

Aid Society

Northwest Section
Mrs. H. J. Forgy will be hostess to the members of the northwest section of the First Presbyterian Aid society, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at her home, 2107 North Main street. All women of the congregation residing in that section of the city are cordially invited to be present.

Southwest Section
The southwest section of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church held a social meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Thomas, 914 South Main street on Thursday. They were very pleasantly entertained by selections by the Kindergarten band of the Spurgeon school, under the direction of Miss Maurie Hamill, and by readings by Betty Jane Graham. Dainty refreshments were served in the late afternoon by the committee in charge.

NEWLY-FORMED LEGION CLUB AT FIRST MEET

Fifty members of the Santa Ana Post, No. 131, American Legion, met Monday noon at the Pennant cafe, on North Main street for the first luncheon of the newly formed American Legion Service club.

Incidentally, it is the seventh luncheon held to be formed for organizations in Santa Ana, and from the large attendance at the first luncheon, former service men are of the opinion that their club will be the largest in the county within a short time.

Wilbur Getty, post commander of No. 131, was unanimously selected as chairman of the new service club, and George K. Scovall vice-commander, was elected vice-chairman. Gene Douglas was named secretary and G. Cassidy selected as sergeant-at-arms.

It is the purpose of the new organization to work hand in hand with other clubs which meet at luncheons throughout the week, and to take their share of the work being carried on for the betterment of Santa Ana and Orange county. It was pointed out by Getty, however, that the organization was an American Legion organization and problems that may possibly come up for discussion, which were not in accord with American Legion plans, would not be backed by the new luncheon club, which is strictly for members of the American Legion.

Announcement was made that luncheons in the future will be held at the American Legion hall, the meal to be served by members of the American Legion auxiliary.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW CITY GROWTH

Where is there a city, the same size as Santa Ana that can show the amount of postal receipts as recorded here last year?

Santa Ana, with postal receipts at $130,000 during the year 1924, as shown by postal receipts, ranks near the top in the United States for her population. The gain made last year was almost $9000 over 1923, and it takes a lot of stamps to make $9,000.

Business in any town is based on the amount of postal receipts of that particular town because postal receipts, bank clearings and building permits are taken the entire country over to show economic conditions. Therefore, Santa Ana's postal receipts should be considered.

The gain made in 1924 over 1923 is very encouraging to business men here, who point out that although the gain does not show an overwhelming figure, it is substantial and shows marked progress made in Santa Ana during the past year.

It was necessary for the local department to add a number of mail carriers during the past year and several new routes are being opened at various intervals, in accordance with the rapid growth of the city.

TWO YEARS ACTUAL EXPERIENCE IN OFFICE WILL BE GREAT ADVANTAGE TO COOLIDGE AS HE ASSUMES PRESIDENCY OF UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, March 3.—When President Coolidge becomes the duly elected President of the United States March 4 he will have enjoyed that rare and valuable privilege among new Presidents of having had nearly two years experience in the strenuous office before becoming chief executive in his own right.

Probably no President in recent years has been able to maintain so firm a control over the executive business of being President. During the trying period of the senate investigations, the pre-eminence drive for undisputed party leadership, and the exigencies of a three-cornered political campaign, Mr. Coolidge remained outwardly unruffled. It is this quality of calmness, variously interpreted by persons of various political faiths, which has enabled President Coolidge so thoroughly to dominate his job. The American people have come during recent years to consider the Presidency a man-killing undertaking. It has not proved to be such to Calvin Coolidge. He now weighs eight pounds more than when he entered the White House and his doctor says his health was never so good.

Never Gets "Rattled."

Mr. Coolidge never allows himself to be rushed. His habits are regular. He lives by routine. Working quietly and steadily, he never allows his duties to jostle him. White House oil is never burned during the late hours of the night in order that an over-worked President may keep abreast of his responsibilities, as it used to be so often during the regimes of Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson and Harding.

Mr. Coolidge early recognized this and makes a practice of referring questions to appropriate departments for information. Given the information he usually decides quickly and independently. And with the decision he turns immediately to other problems.

Like His Job.

C. Bascom Slemmons, the President's retiring private secretary, calls Mr. Coolidge the ideal administrator—an administrator able to attend to the thousand duties of his office and yet to avoid submergence in detail. Slemmons also says that Mr. Coolidge sincerely likes his job, and this may explain why he has proved so able to handle so much detail.

President Coolidge conducts himself in office with as few heroics as if he were the manager of a country store. In everything he does there is a careful evasion of melodrama. The most important decisions are shrouded in routine. At times when any other man might see himself as the standard bearer of a great cause or the leader of a great movement, Mr. Coolidge conducts himself more as if he were negotiating for the purchase of a bag of beans or the sale of a side of bacon.

Occasionally associates have urged him to take advantage of certain situations, to issue clarion calls to his followers, to challenge his opponents, to do anything which would focus upon him the glare of dramatic leadership. But he never responded.

This high regard the President feels for what during the campaign he termed "common sense" is not the whim of the moment nor is it a carefully calculated attitude. It is a fundamental part of his character. Instinctively he abhors flourish. There is in him no trace of that theatricalism so frequently found in political leaders. He does not even appreciate it in others.

This habit of mind was perfectly illustrated during the senate investigations and again during the recent campaign. With his opponents and critics monopolizing the center of the stage, he made no move to dispossess them of the spotlight.

Handles Great Mass of Work.

A typical Coolidge day is dry, colorless, outwardly uninspiring and yet crammed with an amazing amount of business transacted. He rises early, usually before seven. If the weather is fair he takes a brisk walk the first thing in the morning. The White House breakfast is always at eight. Occasionally breakfast is marked by that peculiar Coolidgean institution, the White House breakfast conference. A dozen leaders in congress are invited to breakfast to discuss some given question. The discussion is invariably conducted by the guests. Mr. Coolidge listens.

The President is at his desk in the White House executive offices by nine o'clock. During the forenoon his time is devoted to interview with callers. Most of these callers are members of congress or heads of government divisions. The discussion is, mainly on the part of the caller.

He's Easy "To See."

Others are permitted to have appointments with the President if some adequate reason is given. No man is easier to see than Mr. Coolidge during the forenoon if the applicant has some serious reason for seeing him. And at noon on most days anyone who has secured a letter of introduction from a senator or congressman may join the line which moves through the executive offices to shake hands with the President. There are usually over a hundred such handshakes.

On Tuesdays and Fridays the morning routine is interrupted by cabinet meetings at 10:30. This is another occasion marked by more listening than talking on the part of the President. His cabinet meetings, however, are really business sessions.

Also on Tuesdays and Fridays he sees the newspapermen. Regularly at 1 p. m. the President retires to the main building of the White House for lunch. He rarely has guests for lunch. At each meal he eats sparingly.

After lunch Mr. Coolidge takes a brief nap. He is one of those rare persons who can drop off to sleep at will and awaken after a brief snooze much refreshed.

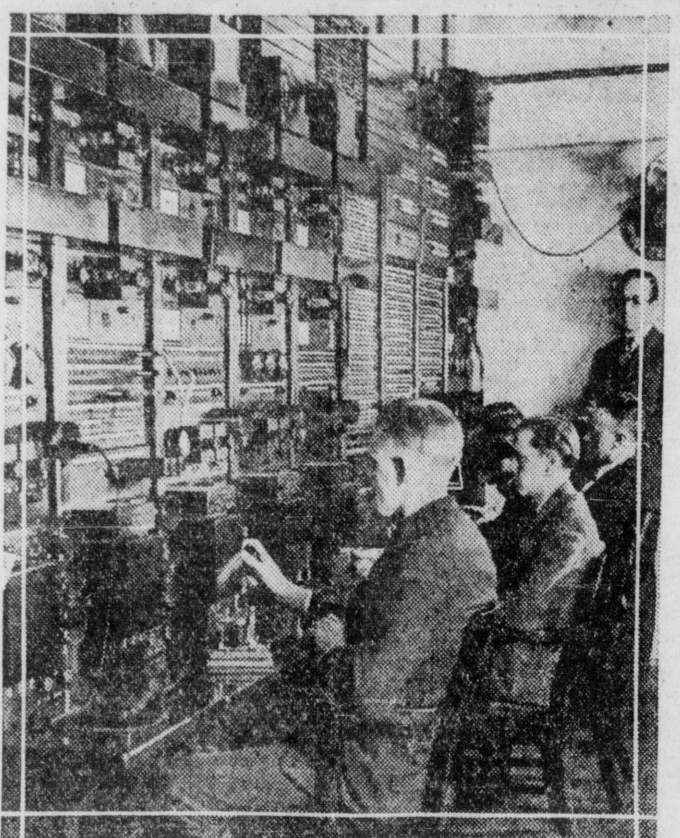

The afternoon is reserved for pressing administrative problems, the writing of the few addresses he makes, and conferences with individual administrative officials. He does most of his work at this time; also the most of his uninterrupted thinking.

Mr. Coolidge seldom leaves his office until long after five. When he does leave he usually takes another short brisk walk. One of his favorite walks is along a shopping street adjacent to the White House. He looks in at store windows like any other window shopper and always the windows that attract the most of his attention are those exhibiting medium priced articles—the class of shop the average man patronizes.

The White House dinner is at seven. Sometimes there are guests though large dinners at the executive mansion during this administration are less common than in many previous regimes. The President has small liking for most forms of social diversion. If he can have for guests a group of senators, or congressmen, or government officials, or prominent men, with whom he can talk practical affairs, he is pleased, but he does not seek guests for the mere sake of having company.

The President's evenings are

DATES IN COOLIDGE'S CAREER

Here are the milestones of President Coolidge's life:
1872, July 4—Born at Plymouth, Vt.
1895—Graduated from Amherst College
1897—Admitted to the bar and started law practice.
1899—Elected city councilman, Northampton, Mass., his first political office.
1900—City Solicitor, Northampton.
1903—Clerk of county courts.
1904—Chairman, Republican city committee, Northampton.
1905, Oct. 4—Married Grace A. Goodhue, of Burlington, Vt.
1907—State Representative.
1910—Mayor, Northampton.
1912—State senator.
1914—President of State Senate.
1916—Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts.
1919—Governor of Massachusetts.
1920—Vice-President of the United States.
1923, Aug. 3—President of the United States, by death of President Harding.
1924, Nov. 4—Elected President of the United States.

generally short. He goes very rarely to the theater, probably not oftener than two or three times a year. When the evening is not taken up by one of the regular White House receptions, he goes to bed around nine-thirty. It is his custom to secure at least nine hours sleep a night.

President Coolidge is the first President in history to have brought a world's baseball championship to Washington, but this represents about his only contribution to the realm of sport. He does not play any known athletic game. Contrary to the custom of the last three Presidents, who kept in trim by playing golf, Mr. Coolidge has shown not the slightest interest in the ancient and honorable game. His daily walks seemed to be all that was needed to keep him in shape until recently.

During his first days in the White House he tried horseback riding. But he ceased this almost immediately. The dust irritated the President's nasal passages, so he abandoned the horse and took to walking. However, the weather wasn't always propitious and the President's doctor thought he wasn't getting enough real exercise.

Uses Mechanical Horse.

So a few weeks ago a mechanical horse was installed in the President's bedroom, and Mr. Coolidge takes a ride three times a day to keep his liver stimulated and to keep threatened stoutness away.

All the President has to do is mount, touch a button and off he goes. The horse is gaited to walk, trot, canter or gallop.

The first thing in the morning, the President, clad in bathrobe, rides for ten or fifteen minutes. Just after lunch he has another canter. Later in the day, when his work is over, he gallops up and down. He uses a real McClellan saddle but no bridle. The machine has helped Mr. Coolidge to a better appetite and a rosier color.

The electrical apparatus got out of order the other day and the secret got out.

Mr. Coolidge goes to the theater or to concerts only because Mrs. Coolidge wishes him to and he goes very seldom. When he does attend the theater, it is evident that he is somewhat bored.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenru, who in many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance.

DEVELOPMENT AT PORT IS IMMENSE

Residents of Orange county hear much regarding the Orange county harbor, but very few know of the actual work that was done on the harbor and the amount of money that has been spent on construction there recently.

Even less do the people who live in the east know of the opportunities in the harbor, or the work that is being carried on to make the Orange county harbor the greatest harbor south of San Francisco.

Following shows the vast amount of money that has already been spent, as shown in reports dated from 1919 to 1923, which was $958,302.21. This money was spent both by the city of Newport Beach and the county of Orange. The following is a tabulation of expenditures:

By Orange County
Extending and strengthening west jetty	$ 72,620.00
Dredging county channel to turning basin	330,822.81
Salaries and office expenses, attorney fees, advertising, printing, etc.	11,207.84
Diversion of Santa Ana river	135,000.00
(Rights-of-way, jetties, bridge)
Engineering expense	31,956.44
U. S. Meteorological station	369.64
Incidental, boat hire, etc.	3,825.48

Total Expenditure by county of Orange $585,802.21
By the City of Newport Beach

Construction of west jetty	$175,000.00
Dredging city channel from entrance to city turning basin	115,000.00
Dredging Balboa basin	12,500.00
Maintenance of buoys, channel markers, harbor master, etc.	10,000.00
Cost of pier	60,000.00

Total expenditure by city of Newport Beach $372,500.00

Feel Achy After Every Cold?

ARE you lame and stiff; tired and nervous—constantly troubled with backache and twinges of pain? Have you given any attention to your kidneys? Grip, colds and chills, you know, are apt to be mighty hard on the kidneys. And if the overtaxed kidneys fail to properly filter the blood, impurities accumulate and throw the whole system out of tune. Then may follow daily backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying kidney irregularities.

In such conditions a good stimulant diuretic should help the kidneys flush the poisons out of your system. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. Are recommended by folks you know. Ask your neighbor!

Here is Santa Ana Proof:
Wilcox A. O'barr, tinsmith, 1025 W. Second St., says: "When I was in a cramped position a sharp pain caught me in the small of my back. My kidneys acted irregularly and I had headaches and dizzy spells. Doan's Pills relieved the pains and regulated my kidneys."
OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mr. O'barr said: "I haven't needed a kidney remedy since Doan's cured me."

Washington Society Awaits Big Ball

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President Coolidge refused to permit an inaugural ball, and further refused to attend any similar function.

Yet all Washington society today awaits the evening for the opening of a ball arranged by certain charity organizations.

It will be a colorful affair, a costume ball which should bring out the wonderful creations of high priced designers.

In preparation for this great ball Washington's hair dressers have become students of history, and fashionable beauty parlors along exclusive Connecticut avenue for weeks resembled art galleries, with pictures of America's social leaders of all times.

For this ball will afford descendants of old families to parade the family tree. For it is customary for the descendant of a Washington or a Jefferson to dress as did his greatest ancestor at such a ball.

Will Be Great Gathering

The ball, to be held at the Mayflower Hotel, will result in the greatest gathering of social celebrities held at the capital in many years.

In hair dress—there will be a Martha Washington or a Dolly Madison, or it may be a Polk, a Van Buren, a Lincoln, a Sheridan, or some other period.

Mrs. Charles Carroll Glover, one of the capital's most beautiful women, will have a head dress of the beloved Dolly Madison, while Miss Caroline Chamberlain, debutante daughter of Maj. Gen. J. L. Chamberlain, will have a head dress of Mrs. James K. Polk, wife of the eleventh president.

Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett, wife of the speaker of the House, soon to be a senator, will appear as charming Martha Washington, this head dress being typical of the times of our first president.

Youngest Hostess

Miss Alisa Mellon, daughter of the secretary of the treasury, Washington's youngest official hostess, worn by Mrs. Martha Van Buren, wife of the eighth president.

Mrs. Philip Sheridan, widow of General Philip Sheridan, outstanding hero of the Civil War, will appear in the same head dress she wore at the inaugural reception will have a head dress of design for President Garfield.

Mrs. James W. Wadsworth jr., wife of the New York senator, will have her hair arranged like Mrs. Abraham Lincoln.

While the ball is not official, it will be attended by members of the official group including the vice president and Mrs. Charles Gates Dawes, the cabinet and Senate and diplomatic corps.

Miss Natalie Hammond, daughter of John Hays Hammond, is chairman of the committee of debutantes who will sell programs. Miss Hammond will wear the last-minute hair dress of a debutante.

Movie Chatterbox

NEW YORK, March 2.—Drama greater than that on the stage is enacted at the box-office during the opening week of any show on Broadway. Play production is the biggest gamble known in America.

A play that achieves only success worth mentioning will return a thousand per cent or more on the original investment. A failure means the loss of many thousands of dollars.

For instance, "White Cargo" is making a profit of $3500 a week in New York alone. It has been running here longer than any other show except "Abie's Irish Rose." In addition there are eight other companies playing it in this country and England.

"The Show-Off" represents an original investment of $10,000. It has just completed a year on Broadway and will run six months more. It clears about $2000 a week for the producers.

In addition picture rights to "White Cargo" and "The Show-Off" will be sold for $100,000 or more each, and half of that sum will go to the stage producers.

On the other hand, consider the failures that crowd the many storehouses about town. There is "Hassan," a spectacle produced by A. L. Erlanger. It ran less than a month and cost $125,000. The Selwyns lost $125,000 on the imported "Johannes Kreisler."

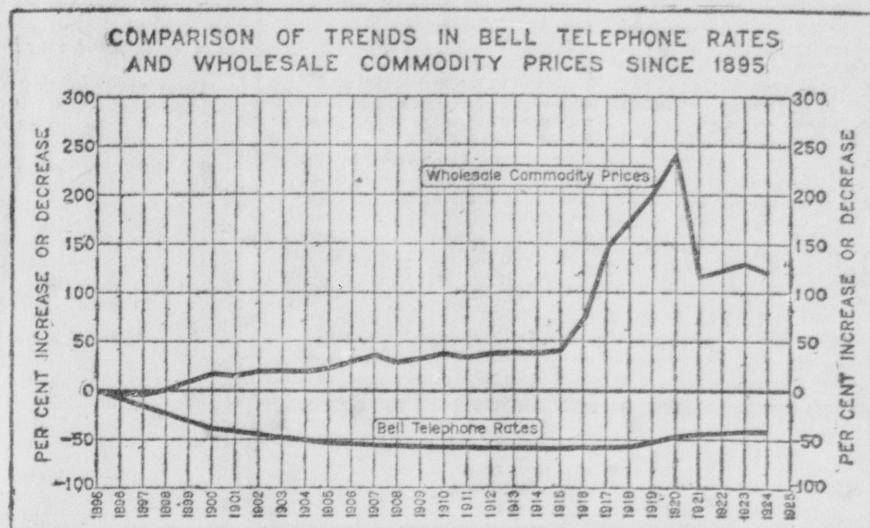

The producing managers last year made an unhappy venture with "As You Like It" and lost $50,000. And covered with dust and almost forgotten lie the remains of "The Prince of India," a game that lost $150,000.

When a play flops, the salvage from scenery and other property will amount to less than 10 per cent of the investment. Where is there a greater gamble?

The Cost of Service

ON the loyalty and skill of the humanelement depends the character of telephone service. The providers of this service must not only meet the market prices for materials. They must also maintain at any cost a high standard of workmanship.

Because of advancing prices, the telephone dollar goes only half as far as it did ten years ago. More than three-fifths of this dollar is necessarily expended for wages. Less would neither attract nor hold the high-grade workers essential to maintain America's standards.

That Bell telephone rates have advanced much less than other prices is largely due to economies in methods and apparatus that have been developed and introduced. It is also because the proportion of operating plant built at pre-war prices is still large, though this is steadily decreasing because of new construction made necessary by the nation's telephone needs.

PREDICT FINE BUILDING YEAR FOR SANTA ANA

1925 will prove one of the biggest years in building in the history of the city, according to a prediction made today by W. S. Decker, city building inspector.

"From the way things look now, Santa Ana will experience one of her most prosperous years, Decker said. "Everything points to an enormous amount of construction work here."

According to Decker, there are a number of building projects which will be announced shortly.

Decker believes that this year will see a large number of industrial structures erected. This will benefit everyone in that it will result in construction of many stores and residences, he says.

"Santa Ana is destined to have a large industrial section for the reason that manufacturers everywhere are hearing favorable reports about the city," said Decker. "The many advantages which are available in Santa Ana are bound to attract capital. Once the factories begin coming in, there will be no let up."

"We are so favorably situated and have so many things that interest manufacturers that it is inevitable that we should become a big industrial center."

Factories mean buildings of all kinds. When the industrial boom gets under way, there will be a shortage of both residences and store rooms.

Half Million Spent Since Jan. 1

"Building since January 1 is approximately a half million. This includes buildings of all kinds but principally dwellings. It looks to me like 1925 will prove one of the biggest years in the history of the city."

Decker pointed out that many large structures started since the first of the year are not included in the building aggregate. Among these is the three story concrete factory which the Vendor company of Santa Ana is building in the Central Industrial district. Candy, chewing gum and slot machines will be manufactured in this structure, construction work on which was commenced two weeks ago. The building will cost approximately $500,000. One hundred persons will be given employment at the plant when it is completed.

The Vendor building is located across the street from the plant of the Standard-American Glass company and one block of the Umer Machinery corporation's establishment.

Among those who have taken out permits for buildings since the first of the year is the Pease and Kolberg company of Orange. A store and hot house building 60x100 feet in size is being erected on West Washington street near Main street.

A store structure to cost $3000 is being built at 619 Fairview street by Mrs. Clara M. Coleman of Newport Beach. E. E. Bosworth is the contractor.

Long Beach residents are doing a large amount of building work in Santa Ana, according to the records of the building department. Among these is W. W. Compton of 143 East Ocean boulevard, Long Beach, who is constructing a $10,000 store structure at 915 East Fourth street.

Another store structure is being built by J. E. Hall of 502 East Walnut street at 207 Oak street. The building will be 18x30 feet in size.

E. A. Davidson of 616 West Fourth street is constructing a double store at 620 West Fourth street. Construction is by day work.

Build Many New Homes

Among the permits issued for residences is one granted to Mrs. Ida Bond of Albuquerque, New Mexico, for the erection of two dwellings and a garage at 500 East Myrtle street at a cost of $10,000. Justus Bircher is the contractor.

Numbered among those who are erecting handsome homes in Santa Ana is Stanley Clew, salesmanager of the Santa Ana Lumber company, who is building an attractive home at 2405 Heliotrope drive at a cost of $8000.

Steele Finley of 2112 North Main street is building a $9000 residence at the same address. The house will have eight rooms.

N. A. Bealer of 1016 French street is building a $7000 house at 1016 French street. The building will have seven rooms.

Spencer Collins, local haberdasher, is constructing a $7500 dwelling at 2311 Riverside drive.

The majority of the permits issued for dwellings are for amounts which insure a good quality of buildings here. The average is around $4000 in price.

COMMUNITY PROSPERITY IS PENALIZED IN CALIFORNIA

An impression prevails to some extent that husband and wife may file separate income tax returns on community property, thereby materially reducing the amount of tax they would have to pay if the return were made jointly, by the husband as head of the family; also that a rebate on former joint return taxpayments is to be allowed.

It is true that effort has been and is being made to place community property income in California, for income tax purposes, on the same basis as that which exists in the other seven community property states—Arizona, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas and Washington—but so far without success.

Up to the release of the decision of the treasury department the attorney general, on January 23, 1925, it was hoped and believed that the decisions in the inheritance tax cases would be given the same interpretation for income tax purposes. Although living in a community property state, California taxpayers are still without income tax benefits that accrue to taxpayers in other community property states, and according to statement issued by the treasury department on January 28, 1925, California taxpayers will continue to pay 40 per cent more income taxes than taxpayers of other community property states, at least until the issue is properly handled through the courts. This statement as released to the press by the treasury department reads in part as follows:

The treasury department has promised that a test case will be brought before the U. S. supreme court, but in the meantime claims for rebate are being barred by the statute of limitations. In the past, there has always been encountered the bitter opposition of the treasury department to the California community property adjustments, and the outcome is doubtful, if the case is presented to the supreme court by the treasury department.

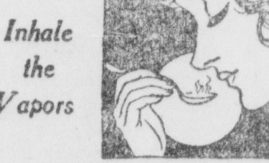

The question, whether a wife has a "vested one-half interest in community property while the husband is living," has never been decided precisely by the California courts. Such cases have been decided favorably in all the other community property states. Decisions of the treasury department and of the U. S. supreme court can only follow the California laws as covered by the California statutes and decided cases until a California court of competent jurisdiction defines the community interest of the wife. The U. S. supreme court and the treasury department cannot decide the matter until it is tested in the California courts, for all federal rules, laws as to civil property and precedents must be based upon the California law itself.

According to opinion of eminent counsel and tax authorities conversant with this branch of the law it will be impossible for the supreme court of the United States to pass upon the community property question favorably because of the present chaotic state of the California law in respect to the wife's interest in community property. Any decision of that court must follow the law of California. Further, the delay in waiting for the supreme court to rule upon the matter consumes valuable time, for in the meantime the statute of limitations is expiring and bars the presentation of claims for refund.

Refunds are due taxpayers who were residents of California on the last day of the years for which the taxes were paid, and will graduate from 30 per cent to 40 per cent of the amount of taxes paid. The treasury has advised that claims for refund will be rejected, therefore, the only remedy lies in proper litigation by test cases and proper filing of limitations. The litigation for income tax purposes must now be started over and advanced through the courts step by step in the same manner as the inheritance tax feature was handled.

Some taxpayers appear to believe that the treasury department will voluntarily make the refunds. The treasury department

"EMANCIPATION OF WOMEN" IS SUBJECT OF HOT ATTACK BY SPEAKER AT AUDITORIUM

Firing first shots at the modern "emancipation of women," and taking issue against influences "that are undermining the youth of the nation," John Elwood Brown, evangelist, speaking before a large audience at the Santa Ana high school auditorium last night, declared that the future of the United States rested in the return to the old-fashioned home life.

What's the matter with the world today? That question, so often asked and oftener silently puzzling the mind and soul, may, according to John Brown, evangelist, be answered in one word—Jazzitis. "Jazz thinking, jazz literature, jazz pictures, jazz music, jazz dancing, jazz riding, jazz living—Jazzitis! That's what's the matter with the world," Brown thundered from the rostrum of the high school auditorium last night.

"All agencies seem to be joined to fight the American home," Brown said. "Conditions that 20 years ago were known only to the low life of the streets have been injected into the very homes of the nation."

"Girls are coming to think that the bonds of home life are slavery. When our girls think that the highest object of life is not marriage and the home, then the nation is doomed."

"The present period is sometimes called that of 'emancipation of women.' Yet it is not a bright outlook to discover that the girls of today are not fitting themselves for the duties of training sons and daughters."

"Woman displays her finest character as a wife, a mother, and a homemaker. Without her, homelife is impossible. The foundation of our nation is the home. Upon its structure rises the church and the school."

An audience estimated at 800 attentively listened to Brown, frequently breaking into his talk with applause. Delegations from cities in the vicinity swelled the gathering. On the platform with the speaker were J. P. Baumgartner, editor of The Register, R. R. Miller, county probation officer, and F. W. Collins, who is associated with the evangelist.

Says Students Shun Manual Labor.

Asserting that he expected to meet contradiction, Brown made the statement in the course of his talk that the nation would benefit with fewer schools for educating the students to shun manual work. "Education is building up students who shirk manual labor and demand the 'white collar' jobs. Ninety per cent of the students seek those jobs where there is room for only ten per cent. Our schools are taking students away from productive lines of industry."

What we need today is not laws to prohibit labor; every student over 12 years old should, by law, be required to do some manual labor every day. Somebody has to go to work, and it is time that we learn the artistry of labor."

Claims Athletics Overstressed. The speaker added another quip at the schools when he said that "athletics have almost swamped the school system by gaining undue importance over the recognized studies."

Brown lamented that the prophet chamber and the family altar had come to neglect in the modern home.

"No nation can rise above the level of its homes and also no nation can fall below the level of its homes," he said.

"If I were to make an inspection of homes in Santa Ana, I would first look at the pictures, then at the literature and finally I would ascertain what kind of music is played and sung. From these, I could judge the type of the homes. 'Modern literature and jazz are two of the most potent influences undermining the morals of the American youth. During the last twenty years suggestive and immoral books have been printed that formerly would have been cause to send the publisher to prison.'"

Decided views are held by the evangelist in regard to the lack of discipline of today. He has no sympathy with the parents who salaam to the dictates of their children.

"Parents are entirely responsible if they allow their boys and girls to walk the streets at night. There is too much evidence that it is the parents that are betraying children today," Brown concluded.

At the conclusion of Brown's address, F. W. Collins, vice dean of John Brown college at Silome Springs, Ark., told about this wonderful school, where over 300 students are getting a good living, an education, learning trades and agriculture and becoming Christian men and women, absolutely without cost to themselves except four hours work per day. No student can get into John Brown college who has any other way of securing an education, and no student can stay there without working, productively, four hours every day except Sunday. Undenominational religious training is compulsory.

Five thousand applications for entry at John Brown were rejected last fall for lack of dormitory facilities.

The "California Building" now in process of construction, mostly by student labor, will accommodate 10,000 students. It is being entirely financed by California contributions. Santa Ana has given $25,000, Garden Grove $10,000—the largest contribution in the state in proportion to population and wealth.

R. J. Thompson, well known citizen of Santa Ana, has been for years a large contributor to John Brown, and of late he has been assisting Mr. Collins in raising funds for the California Building. Any one desiring to have a part in this great work should communicate with Mr. Thompson.

ATTRIBUTES FOR SUCCESS LISTED

Ralph Cole, state boys' Y. M. C. A. secretary in California, spoke before members of the Santa Ana junior college "Y" club last night at a banquet here in the local association building. Cole is in charge of the student work of Southern California.

In informal discussion the speaker brought out the attributes desired today to insure success. Against these he listed the hindrances that are to be encountered and overcome.

"Service," Cole said, "is the answer to the question as to how we may best enjoy the results of our work."

Arrangements for the meeting were made by James McDill, boys' work secretary in Santa Ana. Horace Perkins, club president, was chairman.

"FELT SLUGGISH, LAZY AND DULL"

Illinois Man Says He Found Black-Draught to Be a "Good Active Medicine" and Would Not Be Without It.

Edwardsville, Ill.—Mr. Walter W. Macdonald of 711 Fairview Avenue, this city, says that he has taken Black-Draught, when needed, for a period of ten years or longer.

"I used to suffer," he says, "with indigestion, a tight feeling in my chest after meals—felt sluggish, lazy and dull and out of sorts. I would be very constipated."

"Some one recommended Black-Draught. I began using it. I found it so very satisfactory I have used it ever since. I wouldn't be without it."

"My work is inside. I do not get as much exercise as I would like, and at times my system gets clogged and I would see the necessity of a good active medicine. After one or two doses of Black-Draught, my head clears up and I feel like new."

"For stomach or liver trouble, Black-Draught does good."

Thedford's Black-Draught is recommended by thousands of others for the relief of many common ailments due to a torpid liver, needing laxative or cathartic stimulation.

It is purely vegetable, mild, but positive, in action, and leaves no bad after-effects.

Y. M. C. A. TO STAGE ATHLETIC CIRCUS

Elaborate plans for holding the First Y. M. C. A. Annual Gymnasium circus, a community event featuring different forms of sports, athletics, games and physical exercises, are now being prepared by a special committee appointed by President O. H. Barr, it was announced today by Ralph C. Smedley, general secretary of the association.

March 19 and 20 are the dates set for the big event, which, according to the enthusiastic support given the project, promises to be an annual event, Smedley declared.

There will be about 150 performers, a considerable number of whom will be women and girls. The program under preparation includes several entertainment features and stunts, it was intimated. Details of the affair will be announced within a few days, Secretary Smedley stated, explaining that the object of the show is to acquaint the general public, and parents in particular,

PUPILS AID IN CAMPAIGN OF LETTERS

Appeals of Two Students To Eastern Friends Nail "Wail" Tales

Pupils of the Jefferson grammar schools have been following with interest the letter campaign and many of them have written letters to friends and relatives throughout the country.

Among the students who have sent missives telling of the true conditions here are Lillian Hurwitz, 1620 North Broadway, and Thelma Johnson, 2122 North Broadway. Their letters follow:

2122 N. Broadway,
 Santa Ana, Calif.
 February 27, 1925.

Dear Helen:—In order to correct the untruthful things said about California by its enemies, I am writing you this letter to tell the true facts.

Santa Ana, which is the city I live in, has a population of 30,000 people. It has five banks, which have deposits amounting to $15,363,230.01. The resources of the banks are $18,341,516.53. Santa Ana is also the county seat of Orange county.

The products of Santa Ana and surrounding territory are oranges, lemons, walnuts, beans, vegetables, sugar beets, alfalfa, olives, apricots and avocados. The products of the soil amount to one hundred million dollars annually.

Santa Ana is the largest walnut shipping center in the world. There are thirty churches in Santa Ana, ten elementary schools, two junior high schools, one high school, one junior college, and business colleges. Santa Ana has $1,550,000 worth of schools and equipment.

Santa Ana is about ten miles from the Pacific ocean and about the same distance from the mountains. It is 33 miles from Los Angeles, the largest city in California.

The homes in the residence part of the city are well kept, having flowers and lawns. Santa Ana has 275 miles of boulevard leading to mountains, beaches and other places.

There are many factories in Santa Ana. There is a fine auto park. There are real nice little houses to rent in the auto park. The climate is very healthy here in California, for it is warm all the year around. The nights and evenings are much cooler than the days.

Well I must close now for the bell will ring in a minute.

THELMA JOHNSON,
 1620 N. Broadway,
 Santa Ana, Calif.
 February 21, 1925.

Dear Ruth:—Having nothing in particular to do I am going to tell you of the wonders of our paradise, Southern California, and especially Santa Ana. This, my native city, is the county seat and chief financial center of Orange county, a beauty spot ten

How Santa Ana Appears From Airplane

From aloft Santa Ana's ideal location can be better appreciated than from old Mother Earth. Handsome public buildings, schools, fine homes and spacious landscaped areas, gardens and grounds all show up in graceful symmetry of outline. The modern trend of construction is well demonstrated in this view, the many new business blocks in the downtown district looming up and imparting a decidedly metropolitan appearance to the progressive county seat of Orange county. Santa Ana is well wooded, too, it will be noted, and the gentle rising slopes also enhance the city's general attractiveness.

NATURE GLORIFIED REIGNS SUPREME WHOLE YEAR ROUND

Santa Ana—but two words—yet full of meaning and significance. The city named after a saint—the official seat of the richest county in the Southland—Orange county—the garden spot of sunny California.

SANTA ANA HAS INTEREST FOR EVERY DESIRE

One of the distinctive characteristics of Santa Ana which appeals to so many people is the independent individuality of its citizens. Very few Santa Anans regulate their lives to conform to customs established in a particular coterie of friends or organizations. Santa Anans are distinctive for the doing of what they want to do, for making themselves comfortable according to their own particular idea of comfort, and for keeping themselves free enough to enjoy all those things that appeal to them.

If spiritual natures require church activity, there are 30 remarkably active, prosperous and growing church organizations. If their interests center in advantages for their children, the foremost educators of the United States have been attracted to Santa Ana where they have over $1,550,000 worth of school buildings and equipment to work with. Santa Ana's educational system has attained great distinction for its excellence.

Agriculture flourishes. If their interests are agricultural, Santa Ana is surrounded by a marvelous fertile country that is literally covered with groves of oranges, lemons, walnuts, olives, apricots, avocados and acres and acres of sugar beets, lima beans, barley, alfalfa, berries, melons and vegetables. Products of the soil in Orange county amount to approximately $100,000,000 annually.

For their play hours, there are numerous famous beaches, mountains only ten miles away, a beautiful new golf course, and other sports courses in the vicinity. Motoring on 275 miles of paved boulevards, hunting, camping, fishing, and so on.

The figures of Uncle Sam's Weather Bureau tell the story of Santa Ana's climate. The average low temperature in the coldest month will seldom run below 41 or 42. The highest average in the warmest month will be around 85 to 88 degrees. There is usually 25 degrees difference between the highest in the daytime and the lowest at nighttime, so that nights are always cool the year around. The temperature is ideal. Santa Ana is midway between the ocean and the mountains, ten miles from each, and every scientific investigation of Santa Ana's climate has proven it to be more nearly perfect than any other locality, from both the viewpoints of residence and manufacture of delicate products.

The love of city, the natural result of love of home, has found expression in external beauty—with the city's plans providing large, deep lots, the lawns and landscapes are designed with the care of an artist's canvas. Paying petitions are constantly before the council—over 50 miles in Santa Ana's residential sections are beautifully paved. Avenues are lined with cypress, pepper, palms and rare tropical trees. Ornamental lights illuminate main boulevards.

The strength of Santa Ana lies in its home life—the unequalled educational advantages for its children, with a Junior College providing two years of university work—wholesome, healthy, recreational activities in the city, at the seashore, or in the mountains close by.

City Has Over 5000 Homes. With over 5000 artistic homes in Santa Ana, a population of over 30,000, it is evident that over 90 per cent of the people own their own homes. And one finds that these homes are individual expressions of a home-owning and home-loving population that sets about to pursue happiness and home comfort in its own way—and succeeds.

The business district of Santa Ana is keeping pace with the times. Recently completed are the new six-story First National bank building, all fireproof construction, modern to the last minute, and costing $400,000. The new home of the Southern Counties Gas company, New Walker theater, representing an investment of about $115,000. New telephone building at 5th and Bush. W. L. Moore building of 4 stories at 4th and Broadway. A new hall of records costing $218,000, erected by the county. New Santa Ana M. C. A., a 3-story building costing $200,000. New First Christian Scientist church, costing $115,000.

In an industrial way, Santa Ana has every advantage to attract investments. Cheap fuel

LITTLE LOSS IS CAUSED BY FIRES

Santa Ana's fire loss in comparison with other cities the same size, in eastern states, is "something to write home about."

The loss for the entire year of 1924, according to records filed with the city of Santa Ana, was only $25,642.72, which is approximately one-fifth of that in cities that correspond in size, and it is no common event when the fire departments of the city are not called out of their stations for a week at a time.

Nine out of ten fires the year around amount to but little, and are easy with which to cope. Santa Ana has a name for expert fire fighting, and her de-

Santa Ana Man Sends Paper to Correct Canards

D. G. Cole, of 711 North Main street, has offset some of the stories about California by sending a copy of a Los Angeles paper to the Hamilton, Ohio, Register. The following letter by Mr. Cole was printed in the Hamilton paper:

D. G. Cole, of Santa Ana, California sends us a copy of a Los Angeles paper, containing a retraction of the St. Louis Times regarding the effect of the constitutional amendment upon visitors to the state of California. It is admitted that the news story came from a supposedly reliable source, and it is to be regretted that California and Florida in the matter of taxation of winter and visitor transients. The California paper took the matter up in behalf of its state and says the new law does not change the statutes affecting tourists or non-residents, nor affect any class of property now or hereafter exempted by the constitution. It states they have never taxed intangible property of non-residents, and that they have never assessed and have not the remotest intention of assessing the tangible property of a non-resident. As one of the papers noting the extreme statements made in the story circulated as news without immediate contradiction the Register is glad to have the facts. That is the chief difficulty of publishing a paper these days. It is hard to know what is or is not true.

partment is rated as one of the best in the state. For this reason, insurance rates in Santa Ana are somewhat lower than elsewhere.

During the entire year of 1924, the largest fire loss was a building valued at $4300. This building was not occupied at the time and the origin of the fire is a mystery. The flames had gained rapid headway before the department was called.

During the entire year, there were only 66 alarms turned in, a record that many cities in the east would be proud of for one month. A number of towns that can be pointed out had more calls in one month than were registered here in a year.

And of the 66 alarms, there were 11 classed as false alarms, where there was no fire at all. Nine of the 55 fires of the year were trash piles where there was no damage and thirteen were automobiles.

The month of March, dreaded by firemen more than any other month of the year, because of the high winds that generally come at that time, the nemesis of fire departments throughout the state and nation, holds little fear for Santa Ana firemen. They base their lack of fear for this month on past records. During March 1924, the fire loss in Santa Ana was only $4500.

YOU CAN TELL THE WORLD THAT SANTA ANA HAS—

OVER 30,000 population and is growing rapidly. It is the county seat of Orange county, the richest county per capita on the western coast, with a per capita wealth of $7,214.92.

Deposits of Orange county banks combined are greater than those of any other county of its character in the country, according to the latest Bankers' Directors. We have in the city of Santa Ana five banks with a total deposit of $15,363,230.01 and resources of $18,341,516.53.

The ratio of automobiles in Orange county is one to every three people, according to reports of the State Motor Vehicle department. This is a record for the populous counties in the state.

The ratio of number of people to dwellings in Orange county is 16 to 15, according to the last Census Report. This large proportion of home owners or buying units represents a market that is exceeded in no other section of the country.

Orange county while one of the smallest counties in the state, produced last year $50,000,000 in oil and over $30,000,000 of agricultural products.

There are more acres per square mile farmed in Orange county than any other county in California.

Santa Ana is the largest walnut shipping point in the world.

Orange county has a population of approximately 100,000 contented people.

For domestic uses: Natural gas, $1.00 per 1000 cubic feet; electricity, 8c per kw. hr. and pure artesian water, $1.25 per 1000 cubic ft. Exceptionally low rates prevail on natural gas and electricity to industrial plants using either fuel gas, or electric power.

Santa Ana is developing along industrial lines to a marked degree and has more than 1000 industrial workers in the city. It affords many industrial opportunities as outlined in our Industrial Survey just completed. The Industrial Land Company of Santa Ana, composed of leading Santa Ana business men, co-operates with all industrial prospects and assures a square deal to all.

HERE ARE TWO OF CITY'S MANY FINE HOMES

Santa Ana, the seat of Orange county, and center of one of the richest and most fertile sections in the whole state of California, is noted for its many fine homes, 90 per cent of which are owned by the tenants. Above are two of the attractive residences.

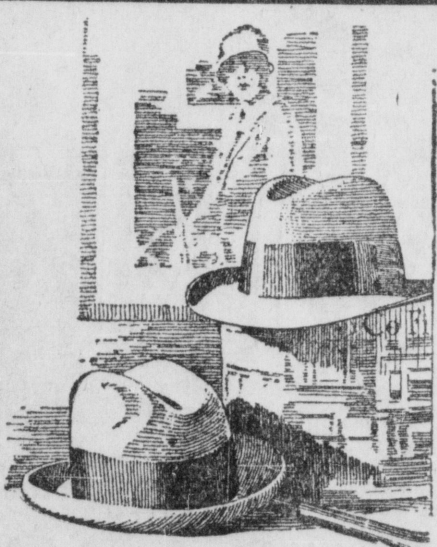

NEWPORT-BALBOA HAS STRONG LURE

Facilities for enjoying every form of watersport are provided at Newport-Balboa. Rowing, canoeing, sailing, yachting, motorboat racing, aqua-planing, diving, surf and still-water bathing, surf and ocean fishing are at hand and open to all, and may be enjoyed every month in the year. One does not need to be the owner of a boat to enjoy the water; boats, large and small may be rented by the hour or by the day. Trips over the bay or out here are at hand and every month in the year. The warm sun, sunshine softens the hold breezes from the Pacific and dills the edge of the crisp wind from the mountain background; this is why so many people of the Southland are building "all-the-year-round" homes on the borders of the bay, or on the front facing the sea. The winter season here is much like spring; there is no "heavy weather."

Lies in Sun. Newport-Balboa lie basking in the sun. The tang of the sea is here and whether fanned by a spanking breeze or caressed by gentle zephyrs, always restful, always healthful, and always a delight to those who seek variety in sane recreation and rational amusement.

Newport-Balboa is known as one of the safest beaches on the south coast, and more and more is becoming an all-the-year-round recreation beach. On the beaches children can safely frolic, dashing into the placid water, storing up energy and health and sports their growing natures need. Picnic conveniences and playground apparatus are provided in plenty. On the bay

Orange county harbor will be developed some day, and this will give great impetus to Santa Ana's industrial development. Close to a million dollars have been spent on the harbor, dredging city and county channels, providing a 2100-ft. breakwater, etc. Other work will be done soon, such as further construction of east jetty, extension of west jetty, dredging to 30 feet, belt line etc. Santa Ana offers splendid opportunities to all.

FIVE ACTS OF VAUDEVILLE AT YOST TONIGHT

Five acts of Junior Orpheum circuit vaudeville are scheduled for presentation at the Yost theater here tonight and tomorrow. A resume of the program follows:

It is all in the making. One chef makes a delicious eatable of the same ingredients that another chef cannot make palatable. Jim and Flo Bogard are amusement chefs and their best recipe is song, dance and patter, well mixed, cooked to a turn and delightfully served.

Hon. Dave Manley, known to theatergoers as "The National Spokesman" is back with a new one. This time it is called "Womanology."

William O'Clare and Madeline, a rollicking Irish duo, offer in a pleasing manner the Irish pastoral "A Bit of Ould Ireland", bringing to the minds of their audience the Irish plays which have been used by Chauncey Olcott, Andrew Mack and Fiske O'Hara.

A most pleasing entertainment is offered by Edouard in a study of miniature portraits produced on the screen. It is very interesting to note how deftly he manipulates his fingers with such quickness and perfection in making these manikins play on the screen for your pleasure.

With broad travesty that gives a hint of the fads and foibles of the gentler sex, Herbert Crowley and his eight allied sailors—all husky gobs who saw service during the war—have fashioned an odd stage conception. It is called "A Different Revue", and it is all that the name implies for the nine youths made up as pretty girls give a touch of high life to the party.

The yacht club has headquarters. Nearby are golf links, and every form of entertainment is available to suit every wish. Numerous cottages, furnished or unfurnished, as desired, may be obtained at reasonable expense. Ample markets and shops supply household necessities; restaurants cater to all tastes. A large sanitary auto camp is maintained—a wholesome convenience. The recently finished concrete paving on all streets makes parking available to both residents and visitors. Many moving pictures are filmed on and about the bay.

About Costa Mesa

Those who wish to live a short distance away from the ocean, will find Costa Mesa attractive; it is close enough to have the full benefit of the ocean breezes. Costa Mesa is on the higher land, overlooking both the bay and the ocean, and is winning many home-seekers who long for a bit of ground for gardening or for raising fruits. You pass through Costa Mesa district when motoring to Newport, and you will find that it has grown from a strictly agricultural district to a beautiful California town in a few years. The view from the rich tableland of Costa Mesa is superb.

Just as the growth of the Southwest in industrial lines compelled the building of the great harbor at Los Angeles, so will Newport Bay be needed to take care of the rapidly developing business of the bay district and its great back country area. At Newport Bay business and pleasure can unite in making a splendid harbor capable of accommodating a great fleet of vessels engaged in commerce and at the same time provide ample room for a great number of yachts and pleasure boats which are at home in California waters.

GET 47 PINTS IN U. S. RAID AT SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, March 3.—Good government stuff," commented a young man as he stepped out from a door beneath the sign "City Hall" at Sunset Beach Sunday night. Drawing his hand across his mouth, the youth smirked his lips with fond recollection.

Government agents loitering nearby decided to see what kind of municipal rule could arouse such enthusiasm and they found 47 pints of moonshine liquor and placed under arrest Fred Gross, 35, painter. Gross could not explain the sign above his door.

City Marshal J. A. Arnold, of Seal Beach, assisted the arresting officers and took the prisoner to his jurisdiction, where Justice of the Peace G. A. Morrison placed bond at $50 on charges of sale and possession of liquor.

Noted Physician To Deliver Talks

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—Final preparations were made here today by local Rotarians for the appearance of Dr. Charles E. Barker, nationally known Rotary club speaker.

Dr. Barker, who was the personal physician to President Taft for many years, will deliver three talks here Thursday, March 5.

He will speak at 11 a. m. at the grammar school to the students of the city. He will talk again at 2 p. m. to the women and girls of the town at the city auditorium and will close his addresses with a talk to men and boys at the auditorium in the evening. His talks will deal with health.

Child Welfare Worker to Talk

TUSTIN, March 3.—Mothers of children who are in the first grade, or who are younger, will gather at the primary building of the school Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for an informal social hour.

Mrs. A. H. Gregg, child welfare worker, will speak on child work. The meeting has been called by the local Parent-Teacher association with a view to forming a branch of the organization by members of children of pre-school age. Special invitations have been sent to all mothers of young children.

Musical numbers will be included in the program. Miss Mill Morrow, Miss Ruth Taylor, Mrs. Viola C. Newell, Mrs. See and Mrs. Earl Murray are the hostesses for the afternoon. Mothers who bring their children will have them cared for in a special nursery which will be provided.

Two Clubs Are to Hold Joint Session

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—A joint meeting between the Lions club and the Rotary club of this city is being planned by committees from two civic organizations for Thursday night. Special entertainment features will be furnished and wives of the members will be guests.

Beauty A Gleamy Mass of Hair

35c "Danderine" does wonders for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of delightful, refreshing "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair becomes.—Adv.

Bandage on His Hand Ignites; Man Is Burned

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—R. L. Garlington, 303 Tenth street, was today recovering from serious burns received yesterday when a bandage on his right hand became saturated with gasoline and ignited. His left hand also was burned while tearing the blazing bandage from his right hand. Garlington is a tool dresser for the C. C. Julian Petroleum corporation in the local field. He received treatment for the injuries at the emergency hospital.

L. A. SPEEDERS GET WARNING FROM ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, March 3.—Los Angeles motorists who have the impression that Anaheim is a city where laws no longer exist since recall election, are meeting grief daily in the city and as a result of the activities of Motorcycle Officer J. C. Looney over the week end, nine Los Angeles drivers are scheduled to present pink slips to Judge Charles Kuchel this week.

Thirty-five to 40 miles an hour through the business district seems to be none too slow for the metropolitan drivers who declare that they understood the city was driving through a "wide open town." A new record has been set in the number of speeders arrested here during the past week and Los Angeles has also shattered all former marks by furnishing 98 per cent of the fast drivers.

Chief Nichols declared that motorists were welcomed in the city and would be treated with the utmost courtesy, but stated that speeding through the business section at a rate that is higher even than that allowed on the state highways, would not be tolerated.

Amaranth Lodge Officers Elected

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—Mrs. Julia Hilliard was elected royal matron of the Amaranth lodge at the annual election of officers of the order, held Saturday night. O. A. Kreighbaum was elected royal patron.

The election was held at a short business meeting of the Amaranth in Odd Fellows hall. Other officers elected were Mrs. Minnie Pile, associate matron; R. J. Prescott, associate patron; Mrs. Winifred Morris, conductress; Mrs. Lela Isbell, associate conductress; Mrs. Helen Gramlich, secretary; Mrs. Mary Ann Muller, treasurer, and A. R. Muller, J. L. Pile, and Richard Drew, trustees.

Other officers are to be appointed by the two royal officers. All officers will be installed at the next meeting of the organization.

Beach Will Seek Odd Fellow Picnic

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—Steps will be taken at once by a special committee of the chamber of commerce to secure the annual Orange county Odd Fellows picnic for this city, April 25 and 26. It was declared at a meeting of the chamber of commerce yesterday.

Will H. Gallienne, manager of the local band, brought the matter to the attention of the organization. Recreational advantages of the city will be pointed out to the Odd Fellows by the committee from the chamber of commerce. The local lodge is also expected to assist in bringing the picnic here.

Hit Workman with Iron Bar, Charge

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—C. L. Duggins, 29, truck driver, was at liberty today under $1000 bond, following an alleged attack on a fellow workman. Duggins was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. He was said to have struck J. R. Manera over the head with a steel bar weighing several pounds.

Manera was treated at the emergency hospital, where three stitches were taken in his head. Duggins was arraigned before Justice of the Peace C. W. Warner.

E. S. PALMITER DIES

ORANGE, March 3.—E. S. Palmiter, 71, veteran newspaper man and an employee of the Orange News for a number of years, died Sunday evening at the home of his son, J. Palmiter, of Alhambra, after a serious illness of a few weeks. Mr. Palmiter was born in Medina county, O., spending his active life in Hart, Mich., in the newspaper business. He came to California 15 years ago.

SECRETARY GOES NORTH

FULLERTON, March 3.—Secretary George Raymer of the chamber of commerce left Sunday for San Francisco, where he will be met by Major E. J. Marks of this city. The two men will visit Berkeley and Sacramento on matters pertaining to the location of the Southern Branch of the University of California.

LEGION WORKS FOR DISPLAY OF OLD GLORY

BALBOA, March 3.—Following the plan in operation at Huntington Beach, Anaheim and Santa Ana, the Newport Harbor post, American Legion, is sponsoring a plan for permanent, uniform and regular display of the American flag throughout the harbor district, which includes Newport Beach, Balboa and Costa Mesa. Support of the merchants in the three towns will be secured in installation of flag pole receptacles in the curb. Arrangements will be made whereby each merchant will display a flag in front of his place of business on all holidays and special days, and will remove and store the flag for the next occasion.

The flags will be four by six feet. The staffs will be 12 feet long and will be set in steel receptacles which will be flush with the sidewalk and provided with a cover when not in use. The cost to the merchants for flags and installation will be $6 each. In this way, patriotic display always will be available and on an economical basis, it is pointed out.

The American Legion boys will go before the trustees of Newport Beach at the next council meeting and ask endorsement of the plan. It is understood unofficially that the plan will be approved.

TRUSTEE HOLDS UP PAVING PROGRAM

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—Declaring that he did not approve of metal light posts and would not cast his vote for the paving of Palm avenue until the mayor approved of marble light posts, Charles G. Boster last night temporarily succeeded in holding up proceedings on the street improvement program. He refused to second a motion made by James Macklin to adopt a resolution to pave the street.

Another meeting of the city council was called for Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Only three members of the council were present last night at the regular meeting. The resolution of intention to pave the street, which set the date of opening bids as March 16, at 2 p. m., which will be passed at the meeting of the council tomorrow, it is expected, as the other members of the council are declared to be in favor of paving the street.

Steps were ordered taken to improve several of the streets on the east side of town, and was also decided to start proceedings to open all streets across the railroad from Seventeenth street to Ocean avenue. Several assessment district maps were approved, and reports for the month were heard.

Fullerton Is to Observe Site Day

FULLERTON, March 3.—That Friday, March 6, will be "Orange County Site Day" and that invitations will be sent to every chamber of commerce, Rotary club, Kiwanis club, Woman's club and all similar organizations throughout the county, inviting their members to visit Fullerton's proposed site for the Southern Branch of the University of California, was announced at the regular meeting of the chamber of commerce.

It is expected that more than 5000 persons will visit the now famous Bastanchury Ranch site on that day.

The site will be marked by flags and there will be chamber of commerce representatives on hand to explain the location and what Fullerton offers.

Hurls Bottle at Officer and Pays $25

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—Because E. P. Thompson, 23, threw an empty bottle at an officer, he was given a 90-day suspended jail sentence in addition to a fine of $25, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness before City Recorder Harry Stewart here yesterday morning. Thompson was arrested on the beach late Saturday evening. He is an oil worker in the local field. Elmer Parker, motorcycle officer here, successfully dodged the bottle which was thrown at him by Thompson.

NAB JEWELER LEAVING WITH MANY WATCHES

ANAHEIM, March 3.—Probable loss of more than a dozen watches was averted yesterday by action of police who took J. A. Stinson, Anaheim jeweler, into custody on complaint of a number of local persons who declared that they had left watches with him to be repaired and that he had failed to return them.

He was halted at the stage depot just as he was ready to board a bus for Los Angeles. In his pocket was found a railroad ticket to Los Angeles, which called for his departure from Los Angeles today. In a small box which he carried were the watches which were owned by persons filing the complaint, it is alleged.

Stinson, when questioned, declared that he was going only to Los Angeles to visit his wife, who was ill, and denied that he was leaving the state until the ticket was found on his person.

Beach Folk Will Hear President

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—President Calvin Coolidge's inaugural speech will be heard by many local residents over the radio in the municipal auditorium, it was announced here today, following request of the chamber of commerce to George Wardwell, local radio dealer, to install a loud speaker at the city auditorium where the speech might be heard.

Wardwell also will install a special radio equipment at the grammar school auditorium where the pupils will hear President Coolidge.

Petty Thievery Puzzles Police

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—Police were today renewing efforts to apprehend thieves who have been stealing accessories from automobiles in Huntington Beach. A. W. Preston of Downey reported loss of a small satchel and a camera, from his machine which was parked in front of a friend's home on Thirteenth street Sunday evening.

Reports of tire and accessory thefts during the past week have been numerous.

Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, March 3.—A large chicken brooder recently completed by W. E. Ashley, on his place southeast of town, caught fire Sunday night about 10 o'clock and burned to the ground before the fire was discovered. Mr. Ashley was testing out the heat, as he planned to put 1000 little chicks in the brooder Monday. It is thought that a small compartment which enclosed one burner became too hot, causing the fire.

L. C. Sommerville, who left last week for Wyoming on a short business trip, is expected home the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stillens motored to Pomona Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Larrison are the parents of a son, born recently. Mrs. Larrison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Swartzbaugh.

Mrs. F. P. Rossett returned from Los Angeles Friday after visiting a few days with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ulrich of Placentia were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Z. Wasson.

Mrs. Wayne Prickett of Huntington Beach visited her aunt, Mrs. Mary Winters, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stillens were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones in Long Beach Friday evening.

Mrs. D. W. Weaver of Trabuco visited in Garden Grove Monday.

J. N. De Vaul was a Sunday dinner guest at the home of Mrs. Mary Winters.

TOURNAMENT OF LIGHTS TO BE HELD AUGUST 1

BALBOA, March 3.—Announcement was made today by J. A. Beek, J. P. Greeley and George Neill, of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce, that Saturday, August 1, will be the date of the annual Tournament of Lights. The tournament is always an August affair. Tide conditions govern in setting the day, the highest tide of the month being on August 1.

J. A. Beek, who has been remarkably successful in the management of past tournaments, will direct the tournament this year. His appointment will be confirmed at the March meeting of the Balboa chamber.

Beek is active in the Newport Harbor Yacht club and is the "father" of the Balboa Island Yacht club for youngsters under 16 years of age.

Placentia May Quit Fullerton H. S. District

FULLERTON, March 3.—That residents of the Placentia school district are considering advisability of following the lead of the Brea-Olinda districts and break from the Fullerton Union High school district was disclosed recently when the Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce was asked by Placentia to consider such move.

It is Placentia's idea, it is said, to ask Commonwealth, Yorba, Yorba Linda and Richfield to join with them in forming a separate high school district.

The matter will be discussed at a meeting of the Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce to be held tonight.

Faces Trial On Liquor Charge

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 3.—J. C. Teater, local taxicab driver, was scheduled to appear in court here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for trial on charges of possession of liquor. He was arrested by operators of the Anti-Saloon league during a county-wide liquor raid, last fall.

Mrs. Beverly Ward is the complaining witness in the case. It is expected that Teater's attorney, John Martell, of Santa Ana, will contest validity of the warrant issued and demand the original warrant upon which Teater was arrested.

The warrant for his arrest and the complaint against him, as they now stand, are said to have been issued two days after his arrest.

El Toro Items

EL TORO, March 3.—Mrs. Lydia Hemenway will be hostess to the Woman's club Wednesday.

Regular meeting of the P. T. A. will be held at the school Thursday afternoon, March 5.

Mrs. A. A. Stowe motored to Oceanside Friday and spent the day with friends.

George Osterman went to Victorville Friday, stopping on his return to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Chandler at El Cajon, and at Arlington to see Mr. and Mrs. George Conaway, who formerly lived in El Toro.

Mrs. Harvey Bennett entertained a group of friends at the home of her sister, Mrs. Roy Silkwood, in Santa Ana, Saturday, in honor of Mrs. Willis Perkins of Orange. The guests have been friends since their high school days in Santa Ana.

Mrs. L. K. Scott, who has been seriously ill in a Los Angeles hospital, is now at the home of her daughter in Santa Ana, where she is convalescing.

El Toro's Boy Scout troop enjoyed a hike into the hills, Saturday with their scoutmaster, Charles Binkley.

Ernie Johnson

Ernie Johnson, the "handy-Andy" of the New York Yankees, embarked on a tour of Santa Ana yesterday and today was en route to St. Petersburg, Fla., where the erstwhile world champion will put out their training camp duds this spring.

Ernie, considered by most critics the best utility infielder in the big tent, expects to have the best season of his career this term. The former Salt Lake pilot is feeling better now than he has since he began playing baseball. He has been bothered in the past by rheumatism but a winter in Orange county's balmy climate made him fit as a fiddle.

Johnson weighed but 135 pounds when he joined the White Sox back in 1912. He was a little heavier than that while he was managing the Bees. Now he is carrying around 157 pounds.

Glenn ("Gowdy") Potter of Orange, who captained the University of Illinois basketball quintette two years ago, has joined the Hollywood Athletic club's team. Potter played four years of the court pastime for Orange high school before he matriculated at the "Big Ten" institution. He spent three years on the Illinois varsity.

Ken Williams, the big fly-chaser of the St. Louis Browns, disclosed an interesting fact about his club's outfield while he was in Santa Ana this winter. Had Johnny Tobin, the Browns' right fielder, connected for just one more hit than he did last season it would have made six consecutive years that the St. Louis gardener hit above .300. Tobin finished the season with a .299 which stopped this unusual streak.

The six year batting marks of mark of .299 which stopped this unusual streak.

The trio follows:

Williams	.299	.299	.299	.299	.299	.299
Jacobson	.299	.299	.299	.299	.299	.299
Tobin	.299	.299	.299	.299	.299	.299

Frank Noon, San Francisco sports scribe, is just learning golf and is becoming enthusiastic over the game. He tells the following story:

"On coming in from the links the other night I asked Mrs. Noon what she guessed I went around in that afternoon. Her answer was 'Double'."

"Double—What do you mean?" I fired back at her.

"Double what you tell me," she answered.

The scores of local baseball fans who got to know the big, good-natured "Daddy" Vance while the Brooklyn "Fire-Ball" king was here this winter will be interested in learning that he signed his contract with the Dodgers yesterday.

The document is to run for three years over which Vance, it is understood, will receive $50,000.

For one year "Daddy" asked $22,000; for two years, $38,000, and for three years, $50,000. It is understood that his club met his terms.

Vance isn't a kid anymore but he was so good last year that he was voted the most valuable player in the National league over such brilliant pastimers as Frank Frisch and Rogers Hornsby.

How Sweetser Broke Chick Evans' Heart by Trumping His "Ace" in Brookline Championship

Chick Evans probably was never keener for victory than the day he faced Jess Sweetser in the semi-finals of the national amateur championship at Brookline in 1922.

Evans was not a favorite with the Boston gallery. A year before he had lost to Jesse Guilford, the New Englander, at St. Louis, and an interview, accredited to him, had appeared in print placing some blame for his defeat on gamblers who had heckled him during the match.

The Boston gallery had interpreted this as an alibi on the part of Evans and with their two favorites, Guilford and Outmet, already out of the tournament, they rooted for Sweetser.

The Swanby blond had been the leader throughout the day. But Chick seemed to have a chance up to the ninth. Here Sweetser's second was within five feet and he got down for a birdie three and went back to his accustomed lead of three up, carried over from the morning round.

The tenth was halved. Chick won the eleventh, but overshot the short twelfth entirely, and was again three down, but still in the fight, as they teed off on the thirteenth, 380 yards long.

Both had fine drives, with Chick slightly back. His second was magnificent and stopped six feet from the pin. It looked closer than that from the playing point, almost against the flag.

But Sweetser never batted an eye. Swinging his heavy-ribbed club with a flourish, he punched out a high steep shot that covered the pin all the way and looked as if it was going to hole out.

The ball stopped in line with the cup and a foot nearer than Chick's wonderful shot. Chick had to putt first. Small wonder he missed. Sweetser sank his for a three.

It didn't decide the championship on that green but it showed what could be accomplished by a nervy player under fire, likewise the disappointment that sometimes follows a master shot by a contending opponent.

Four Angel Vets Not Yet In Fold

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—With the regulars of Pacific Coast league clubs now out in uniform for spring practice, the Los Angeles team has missed a quartet of last season's star performers, "Old" Crandall, Jim McAuley, Ray Grimes and Wally Hood have not shown up yet but Manager Marty Krug believes they will put in appearances soon.

The Vernon team is practicing at Maier Park and the Salt Lake club is in Long Beach.

SALT BURGLAR ALARM.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 3.—Salt is considered very sacred in certain parts of Arabia, where it is also a symbol of hospitality. A thief broke into a house one night and, after packing up a bag full of valuables, came upon a gold box. He fasted a white powder in it and found it was salt. He immediately restored all the valuables because he could not steal in a house where he had eaten salt.

SEEK MANDELL TO ENTER N. Y. RING TOURNEY

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 3.—Drastic action to prevent its lightweight elimination tournament from ending as the world's champion joke, has been considered by the New York Boxing commission.

Knowing that the survivor of the tournament will have no title to even a first class rating, the commission is prepared to exert pressure on Sammy Mandell, America's leading lightweight, who refused to enter.

If Mandell does not accept another invitation sent to him several days ago, he will be barred indefinitely from New York.

The showman probably will come this afternoon when the commission meets to draw the opponents for the second round of the campaign. Eddie Kane, Mandell's manager, was notified by the commission several days ago that the draw was to be made today and that he was invited to be present.

Kane wired the commission that Mandell was out of action immediately with a sore shoulder.

A message received by the United Press from Kane today said that Mandell positively would not enter the tournament; that he had not signed as an entry and that his name had been placed in the second round without his consent.

The commission probably will meet Mandell's sore shoulder plea with a proposition to postpone the second round of the tournament indefinitely in the event that Mandell should not draw a bye.

TRAINING TABS

SARASOTA, Fla.—Four uninvited and unsigned rookies who paid their freight here and were boarded at their own expense, were admitted to the New York Giant squad, given uniforms and told to make good if they could.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Wally Pipp, Herb Pennock, Ernie Johnson and Ray Francis were the only players missing today at the Yankee training camp. Johnson and Pipp are on their way, Pennock is ill and Francis is a holdout.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Eighteen Tigers were in uniform Monday morning en route to manager Manager Cobb incapacitated by flu, directing from the bench.

STOCKTON—The first casualty in the Cardinal camp has been reported. Ray Blades, counted on as the regular left fielder, reported to Branch Rickey that an old injury had boded up in his throwing arm. Blades probably will be sent to a specialist in San Francisco.

FRESNO—Rookies with few exceptions, are fading out of the Seal picture here as the veterans work out winter kinks and ease into action. Nick Williams, official bounce, is getting his axe ready to trim down the squad within the next few days.

MYRTLEDALE, Cal.—Earl Kunz and Jess Fowler have come into camp, filling the Oaks' pitching staff to capacity. Del Howard believes this pair will give the team pitching class excellent even last season when the "great" Mails was among those present.

NEWARK, N. J., Sid Terris, New York lightweight, outpointed Pal Moran, New Orleans, in a 12-round, no decision fight.

TORONTO—Vic Foley, Vancouver, retained his Canadian bantamweight championship by defeating Howard Mayberry, Hamilton, in a ten round bout.

SAN FRANCISCO—The Mission Athletic club has matched Jimmy Duffy of Oakland and Bobby Barrett of Philadelphia, welterweights, for a 10-round fight at Recreation park here March 21.

PLAN MEETING OF CLUBS FOR ORGANIZATION

Board of Education Grants Permission For Teams to Contest at Poly Field

Plans for at least an eight-club indoor baseball league in which the leading pastimers of the city will participate in a "twice-around" schedule are being formulated in Santa Ana, it became known today. The organization, when perfected, is expected to bring into the local sport spotlight fully 100 crack devotees of this popular spring and summer recreation.

Summons for a meeting of persons interested is expected to be made within the next 10 days.

Groups already virtually certain of entering strong aggregations include the Excelsior Creamery company, Robertson Electric company, Southern Counties Gas company, Santa Ana Kiwanis club, Fluor Construction company, McFadden Hardware company, Southern California Edison company and the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

Elwyn ("Eeny") Wilcox, for four years the star quarterback on Santa Ana high school football teams, is one of those active, interested in the venture. Wilcox is an expert in door baseball player and will captain the McFadden Hardware company's entry.

The board of education has granted permission for the use by the indoor players of a small section of the Poly athletic enclosure. On this field all games in the league will be played, it is planned.

The following representatives have been asked to attend the organization meeting: Excelsior—"Tex" Bergman and C. F. Hill; Robertson—Carl Trusty and Orlyn Robertson; Southern Counties Gas company—Wayne Nelson and J. C. Hayden; Kiwanis—"Boss" Warren and R. R. Miller; Fluor Co.—Dwight Wilcox and Peter E. Fluor; McFadden—Elwyn Wilcox and Clyde Walker; Edison Co.—"Jug" Walters and Fred Reyer; Y. M. C. A.—Liston Hill and R. R. Muckick.

Indoor teams of the Ross-Fadden Hardware company and the Kiwanis club tangle at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The Santa Ana All-Stars are slated to mingle with the powerful Macy Street school team of Los Angeles here Thursday night.

HOPPE, ELIMINATED FROM CUE TOURNEY

CHICAGO, March 3.—Willie Hoppe, reigning monarch of the ivory balls, tonight will turn his world's championship over to other hands. Hoppe was definitely eliminated from running for the world's billiard championship when he suffered defeat at the hands of Edouard Horemans, Belgian champion, 400 to 365.

Young Jake Schaeffer, who has been the sensation of this year's tournament, is still undefeated and meets Hoppe in the final match tonight. A victory will give him the title and defeat will place him in a tie with the winner of the match between Horemans and Erich Hagenlaender, German champion, who meet this afternoon.

The standing:

Players W. L. Pct.
Schaeffer 3 0 1000
Hagenlaender 3 1 250
Horemans 3 1 250
Hoppe 2 2 500
Cobban 1 4 200
Suzuki 0 5 1000

Spring shall have her say,
Remember how the early gods
Came up the violet way,
Are there not violets
And gods—
Today?

ON A SOLID FOUNDATION

Easterners who know nothing about the real California get the idea that California is built on the tourist trade.

The easterner who has that idea ought to visit Orange county.

He ought to ride out in September and October and observe the threshing machines at work on two or three million dollars worth of lima beans.

From August until November, he would find trucks hauling sugar beets to the factories.

From May until November, he could find a score of packing houses preparing an $18,000,000 crop of Valencia oranges for distribution throughout the East.

Any month of the year he would observe pickers in lemon groves, taking fruit for eastern consumption.

His eyes of comprehension would open were he to see thousands of acres in walnuts and learn that Santa Ana ships more walnuts every year than are shipped from any other point in the world.

He would learn something about the pimienta industry and something about the growing of chili peppers and bell peppers, and here and there he would find avocado orchards or a small grove of persimmons.

Berries, corn, hillside of barley and wheat, cattle in hills not suited to cultivation, celery and asparagus in lowlands, lettuce, apriaries, a few table grapes, some peaches and apricots, orchards of apples, pears, fishing boats, vegetables—all these things contribute to making Orange county what it is.

Orange county is not a county built upon a flimsy foundation. The census of 1920 showed it to be among the leading agricultural counties of the United States. There was no fuss and feathers in the census report; cold statistics showed that Orange county is upon a solid and lasting foundation.

Aside from agriculture and horticulture, in the past four or five years numerous factories have been constructed in this county, and they are now contributing a large share to the total income of this county making it still further independent of the tourist trade.

This visitor from the East would see thousands of derricks, marking oil fields, some of which have brought many millions of dollars to Southern California and which will bring many millions more.

There is reason to believe that new oil fields will be developed in Orange county. Within the past week deep well prospecting was begun in the Greenville-Paulino section southwest of Santa Ana, and within a few weeks a great field may spring into existence there.

Since settlers first began shipping corn and hogs from the rich lowlands southwest of Santa Ana in the 70's, Orange county has been known as a section rich in agricultural possibilities. Development agriculturally and horticulturally has been steady and successful.

What's equally interesting is the fact that Orange county is nowhere nearly fully developed agriculturally and horticulturally. Each year land that was pasture is turned to growing hay, grain or blackeye beans. Each year land that has been used for growing lima beans is put under irrigation and made over into walnut, orange and lemon groves. The march of development is going on year by year before us.

ADVICE TO EASTERNERS

Hundreds of copies of today's Register are to be mailed to men and women who live east of the Rockies, some of them in the Middle West, some of them further east on the Atlantic.

The Register goes as a message of good will. It goes as a message from thousands of residents of Orange county who once lived in eastern states. They have tried both; they know which they like the best.

To those eastern friends and relatives of readers of The Register, we have a suggestion to make. That is, when you read articles painting black pictures of conditions in California, withhold your judgment just long enough to write a letter to California and get a reply. Send your letter to some friend in California in whom you have confidence. Ask him the question, "Is it true?"

It is a fact that of the 100,000 residents of Orange county a very small proportion are native Californians. Half of the 100,000 have been in California for less than ten years. They have been drawn here by California's charms and California's opportunities, and they have remained here because they have found a foothold in the state of their adoption. They are thoroughly satisfied. If you doubt it, write to any of them who happen to know.

OPPORTUNITY SEIZED

Don't think that our Edison and other geniuses have patented all the worthwhile inventions. The number of this country's inventors swells every year.

Total receipts for the patent office amounted to more than three million dollars in 1924, largest year in history.

Number of issued patents, designs and trade marks increased from 57,512 during 1923 to 63,062 last year.

Inventing offers wonderful rewards for those who are successful. Apparently the fact is well recognized, judging from the increasing numbers that go in for it.

NATIONS IN ACCORD

As one reads of the work of different League of Nations committees, conferences, general assemblies, and so on, one is impressed with a rather cheerful fact.

Whatever that organization may fail to accomplish in some lines, it is not failing to accomplish at least one very useful thing. It is revealing to many different nations, of different races and purposes, that in many ways not hitherto considered they have whole-some points of contact and similar ideals.

The opium conferences present an example of this. In many ways they have been disappointing to citizens in this country who have hoped to see the evil reduced. But on the other hand the conferences have brought out the fact that all of the countries involved recognize that there is an evil. All of them want it checked. All of them are anxious to find a way to accomplish this purpose. And in their agreement on the underlying facts is the seed of future understanding and eventual accomplishment.

In other big questions discussed, and little ones too, surprising agreements came to light in the same way. Two nations who disagree radically in regard to one question will find themselves in complete accord on another. Eventually they cannot help but show each other that none of them is wholly wrong or wholly selfish or wholly independent. And such a realization should make them readier to be friends and to act together.

Autoists In Caravans

Pasadena Star-News.

A big caravan of autoists is coming to California in April or May of this year. There will be machines from Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. The idea is sponsored by Chambers of Commerce up in the Northwest. They are coming in response to invitation from the California Development association. These visitors will come as far south as Los Angeles.

This coming of visitors in caravans is something that should be encouraged. Thanks to good roads practically the whole width of the continent, the number of tourists coming to California in automobiles is sure to increase steadily. If several families from one city or one district were to travel through to California together, the trip would be more interesting to them all. It is noted, by those who travel on these transcontinental highways, that this is being done, more and more. Even though travelers do not come from the same locality, oftentimes groups of persons who meet on the way and are congenial, keep together and travel in caravans. There is something unconventional, refreshing and delightful in these acquaintanceships, formed but in the open, on the great highway. Friendships sometimes result—and in some cases, romances, among young persons who thus are thrown together.

One In a Million

San Francisco Chronicle.

To go to bed at night with barely enough worldly wealth for immediate requirements and to awaken in the morning to find the courts had awarded you a $20,000,000 judgment against copper corporations amply able to pay, would appeal like a dream to most of us. Not so with George Campbell Carson, miner and inventor. He says he had been expecting it right along; knew he was going to win it ever since the time, long years ago, when he found the copper companies were infringing on his patent. He has not received his $20,000,000, but that is not worrying him any, neither is it giving him any great concern what he is going to do with it when it is finally paid over.

Carson is one in a million. Sudden wealth, or even the prospect of it, has not changed his viewpoint of life nor upset his mental equilibrium. He has no notions of conquering the world or putting a golden pavement on the primrose path. He will content to go on "spitting." His new fortune will enable him to fit up a little laboratory and buy materials.

He is not a man of tastes. The corporations that fought his claims for years are all right. He does not blame them. He says the judges who decided against him in the lower courts are fine, honest men, the best friends a poor inventor ever had, and he means every word of it.

Who will say Carson is not one man in a million?

Mountain Recognition

Riverside Press.

President Coolidge has signed a bill creating a 5,000 acre park in the San Bernardino mountains for the county of Los Angeles. It was brought about through co-operation between Congressman John D. Fredericks and United States Senator Samuel M. Shortridge. It will mean the development of a wonderful mountain resort, dedicated to the use of many thousands of people, including the residents of other counties of Southern California as well as Los Angeles county. The natural playground sites in Southern California are being rapidly spoken for. Riverside county will soon have the largest area of any in California in which beautiful mountain territory is unspoiled. This county has been slow to capitalize the possibilities of San Jacinto mountains but the time is coming when its unspoiled areas will be looked upon as one of the most valuable natural resources that we have.

The house committee has also reported favorably upon a bill asking $50,000 for an appropriation for a forestry experiment station in California. There will probably be a rush of proposed sites for such a station, which received the endorsement of the chamber of commerce legislative committee last week and was endorsed by the members of the board of directors. There is no reason why Riverside county should be backward in suggesting that the site for this station be located in this county.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

DISINFECTING THE HOME

You can be well and strong only when your house and surroundings are clean and free from germs and vermin. Dirt and disease germs go hand in hand. The consensus of opinion at the last great meeting of the American Medical society, at Chicago, was that cleanliness was the greatest single factor in reducing the death rate in our country.

The general health is not safeguarded as it should be. If laws adequate to real health conditions could be made and enforced, our death rate would soon show a further drop. Disinfecting is one great means of helping in the prevention campaign against contagious disease germs.

Proper disinfecting is easy. The expense is slight, the gain is great.

Disease germs are readily killed and your house made healthful by strong, pungent gases, used as disinfectants. The old sulphur method is still used, and in cases where other material is not easy to obtain, is satisfactory.

For 1000 cubic feet of air space use about four pounds of sulphur. Batten up all cracks and openings, the keyhole included, so that no air can enter. Place your sulphur, mixed with powdered charcoal and a little paper to insure proper lighting, in a metal container for safety. Have the air of the room moist, so the sulphur will be more effective. For vermin extermination, sulphur is best. Do not open door or house so disinfected for 24 hours. Allow no one to enter. Then open all doors and windows to air thoroughly.

Formaldehyde gas or vapor acts more quickly than sulphur and does not affect colors. When using this gas, place clothing or other objects on a clothes-line stretched across the room. Sprinkle a coarse cotton sheet with a 4 per cent solution of formaldehyde gas and leave for 12 or 15 hours. Strong sunlight will kill all ordinary germs in about three hours.

Nothing if Not Brave!

"From Rocks To Roses"

Long Beach Press-Telegram

California editors sometimes engage in surmises on the possibilities which would have attended the Pacific Coast had there been a reversal in the order of American discovery and settlement. "What would have happened in the event that the Pilgrim Fathers and the First Families had landed on the Western Shore instead of on the bleak New England Seaboard and the scarcely less forbidding Virginia frontier?" Then they picture a city greater than New York at either Long Beach or San Francisco, and a dense population from Magdalena Bay to Prince Rupert.

A Chicago editor now has taken up the question, and has provided, to his own satisfaction, that a better country has been developed because of the "Westward Ho" tendency of its progress.

"America spread from Rocks to Roses," declares an editorial headline in the Chicago Tribune of February 22. Had the fate of the Bradfords and the Winthrops been cast in the more pleasant places of California, argues the Tribune, they would have been so well satisfied that they never would have ventured forth to capture the wilderness from the Indians. The intervening desert would have remained unexplored, and what became the Colonies might have fallen into other hands, with the result there never would have been a United States as we know this Nation.

The Tribune editor falls into a common error when he assumes that California's climate and natural wealth enervate its people, causing them to lack ambition and energy. The record of the State's marvelous development does not sustain the charge. No race anywhere under the sun is more keen for laudable achievement. Inspiration is found on every hand. Californians are nation builders; perhaps because they are descendants of those pioneers who conquered the several million square miles which intervene between Cape Cod and Point Fermin, and perhaps because they accept the trust which is theirs as possessors of so glorious a land.

Worth While Verse

CALIFORNIA SUNSET

Was it the wind, or the soft sigh of leaves,
Or sound of singing waters? Lo, I looked
And saw the silver ripples of the brook,
And fruit upon the hills, the waving trees,
And mellow fields of harvest; saw the Gate
Burn in the sunset, the thin thread of mist
Creep white across the Sausalito hills,
Till the day darkened down the ocean rim,
The sunset purple slipped from Tamalpais
And Bay and sky were bright with sudden stars.

Time to Smile

ONE ON DAD

One day, during the prohibition campaign in Ontario, a number of children from the various day schools were in a temperance parade through the streets of Ottawa. After the parade was over the son of a well known local business man entered his office.

"Hello, young man," said the father. "What brings you up town?"

"I was in the parade," replied the hopeful.

"What parade?" asked dad, who wasn't aware of the procession.

"Well," confessed the son, "I didn't know what it was all about, but I carried a big sign made of cardboard."

Here was a clue to the nature of the event.

"What did it say on the sign?"

"Oh," was the lad's reply, "it just said, 'I Have No Shoes, Father Is a Drunkard.'"—London Weekly Telegraph.

Inaugural Facts

Thomas Jefferson was the first President inaugurated in Washington.

James Monroe was the first of the Presidents to have an open air inauguration.

Millard Fillmore was the only one of the Presidents who made no inaugural address.

George Washington began his second term as President with an inaugural address of 134 words.

The first woman to see her son inaugurated President of the United States was the mother of James A. Garfield.

James A. Garfield's first act after taking the oath as President of the United States was to kiss his mother.

John Quincy Adams, just one hundred years ago, was the first President to take the oath of office on a Friday.

The longest inaugural address was that of William Henry Harrison, who served the shortest term of any of the Presidents.

Franklin Pierce and Grover Cleveland were the only Presidents who did not prepare their inaugural addresses in advance.

President Lincoln, in his second inaugural address, used the pronoun "I" only once, while Mr. Roosevelt avoided it entirely.

The record of Chief Justice Marshall, who administered the oath at nine presidential inaugurations, has never been equalled.

Five ex-Presidents of the United States—Van Buren, Tyler, Fillmore, Pierce and Buchanan—were living when Lincoln was inaugurated for the first time.

The inauguration of President Coolidge takes place on the centennial anniversary of the inauguration of John Quincy Adams, the last of his predecessors from Massachusetts.

The Bible on which Grover Cleveland was twice sworn in as President of the United States was one that had been presented to him by his mother when he first left home, in 1852.

President-elect U. S. Grant refused to ride with retiring President Johnson on March 4, 1869. It had been usual for the retiring and incoming Presidents to accompany each other to the Capitol, but Grant declined to accept any honor from the man who, he said, had given him the lie. Accordingly the procession did not include Mr. Johnson, who remained at the White House signing papers until the canon announced that there was another President. Then he left the Executive Mansion.

Emeralds of Cortez

No one stone is really entitled to the name Emerald. Originally it applied to chrysocolla, now considered only semi-precious, and to green tourmaline. Even today we have "Oriental" emeralds—corundum, and "Uraltian" emeralds—green garnets and olivine. The true emerald of modern times is the "grass-green" beryl, gaining its peculiar tint from a trace of chromic acid.

In ancient times the true emerald—valued as an aid to failing vision, but paradoxically considered fatal to the eyes of serpents—came perhaps from the Cleopatra mines of Upper Egypt. But from the time of the Spaniard in the New World, South America has furnished the bulk of the finest stones.

The Muisca Indians of Colombia prized the emerald—and any other green stone—as the most precious of gems. The conquistadors disdained this belief and from Peru sent back to Spain many magnificent emeralds, though it is probable that none of these were mined in Peru. It is likely that the mines of today, at Muzo, northwest of Bogota, produced all of the traditional "emeralds of the Incas."

Of all Peruvian emeralds, five belonging to Hernan Cortez were most noted. One was carved as a bell, with a line pearl for clapper and bore on the rim in Spanish. Tradition has it that the Spanish queen greatly desired these gems, but Cortez bestowed them upon his bride, the niece of the Duke of Bejar, and so gave mortal offense to the queen. But one must believe that Hernan was no reckless giver. It is recorded that when he sailed in 1529 to assist Charles V in the siege of Algiers, the emeralds were lost when Cortez was shipwrecked.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for the Commission of Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

TUESDAY

The First Disciples
Read Lk. 5:1-11. Text 5:1-11. They left all, and followed him.

MEDITATION—What are we called upon to leave to follow Christ? Only those things which work against our own soul's welfare, the sins of the world, the selfishness of our lower nature, our fears, our sloth. Christ calls every one to leave his burdens of sin and come into the larger, freer life of Christian experience. God has set a lamp to guide the feet of his disciples. It is the lamp of Faith. We cannot know where God will lead. The faithful disciple is glad to know "one step" and will not ask to see the distant scene.

And that is Faith, to do God's will here and now, quietly leaving the results to him. Faith is not concerned with the entire chain; its devoted attention is fixed upon the immediate link. Faith leaves something to the Lord; it obeys his immediate commandment and leaves to him direction and destiny.

PRAYER—Give us, O God, faith to follow in the way Christ has led. Help us to lay aside all that hinders our free Christian living. May we rejoice as children of the morning, with bright faces and joyful hearts. Amen.

Building Data

Latest figures would indicate a need for revision of the old theory that the war was entirely responsible for the building shortage. Steady increase each year since 1919 in construction totals is evidence that the normal standard of building activity, which before the war was about one billion dollars annually, has been raised permanently.

Continued population drift from farms to cities is no doubt partly accountable. City population, too, has come to demand a higher standard of housing.

Projects for construction work filed last year represent an expenditure of three and a half billions, a slight increase over the year preceding, and only a fraction of 1923's increase over 1922.

Indications, therefore, are that the peak has been reached and that 1925 will witness a slight slump.
